Four Jailed in Drive on Burglars

7 Establishments Looted Overnight

Four persons were in custody Tuesday on charges of breaking and entering as city police battled to combat a wave of housebreaking that saw seven places looted overnight.

THREE MEN, JOHN O'MALLY, 9434 110 avenue, Patrick O'Mally, MD 13, Calgary, and Ronald Checknita, 12835 86 street, were arrested about 1 a.m. Tuesday in connection with a break-in at the Cloverdale skating rink house, 9736 98 avenue. The fourth, George Bernard Jacobson, was apprehended at the rear of the Castle hotel, 10331 102 street.

JACOBSON, who was charged with burglary when arraigned in city court Tuesday morning, was remanded for one day at the request of Crown Prosecutor Kenneth McKenzie, while charges of shopbreaking against the other three men were adjourned until April 23, when they elected to be tried by the supreme court.

Break-in at the Cloverdale rink was discovered by Fred Webber and Chuck Caddy, who have been living there since April 4, when they surprised men in the building about 12:45 a.m. Caddy was struck on the head as he opened the door and police were immediately called to the scene.

Both Webber and Caddy were drivers on the Whitehorse to Winnipeg dog team trek and had received permission to use the skating rink house while awaiting a chance to return to Whitehorse. Caddy suffered a bruised head when struck with the club but was able to race off and bring police to the scene while Webber watched the house.

THE THREE MEN were arrested on the South Side by Con-

Offer Three Sites For Phone Offices

Three sites on Edmonton's civic centre will be submitted to the provincial government to choose from as the location of the proposed head office of the provincial telephone system, it was announced Tuesday by Mayor Harry Ainlay.

HE SAID THAT a letter would be sent to the provincial authorities within the next few days submitting the offer of choice of any one of the three locations.

The locations to be submitted are: the northwest corner of 100 street and 102 avenue, the northwest corner of 102A avenue and 100 street, and the northwest corner of 103 avenue and 100 street.

New Season's High Is Registered Here

Another record-breaking day of sunshine was chalked up in Edmonton Monday as a new high temperature for the season, 64 above at 2:30 p.m., was recorded at the Dominion public weather office here.

The spring weather was expected to continue with scattered showers and slightly cooler weather forecast for Tuesday and Wednesday. Estimated high reading Tuesday is 56, with the mercury at 10 a.m. passing the 40 mark.

Minimum temperature Monday was 41 at 6:30 a.m. Overnight low low was 28 at 3:30 a.m. Traces of rain fell from 5:10 p.m. to 6:20 p.m., and from 8:42 p.m. to 9:09 p.m.

Sun rises Wednesday at 5:32 a.m. and sets at 7:35 p.m.

Allow Increases Clothing Prices

OTTAWA, April 16.—(CP)—The Prices Board announced last night it has authorized increases in the selling price of men's and boys' work clothing "to compensate manufacturers for the increased cost of fabrics as a result of the reduction of the cotton subsidy." Board officials said retail prices of work clothing in the lower-priced brackets will in many cases remain the same, and in instances where prices do rise the increase should not exceed 25 cents.

Army Sets Qualifications For All Officer Candidates

OTTAWA, April 16.—(CP)—The army, announcing terms of service for its three-pronged peacetime force, disclosed last night that college graduates for officers and junior matriculation equivalents for other ranks will be the general education standards but excepted war veterans from these stiff requirements.

IN A DETAILED, seven-page 3,500-word summary—much of it repetition of confirmation of previous reports—it outlined plans to weed out officers unsuitable for further promotion, reaffirmed the traditional three-year enlistment for other ranks and made known a scheme to give universally training to a batch of promising other ranks selected each year.

Special consideration will be given to men with war service.

Officers will be commissioned in the army as such and not in any

Asks New Study Implement Boost

OTTAWA, April 16—(CP)—H. H. Hannam, president of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture, said today action of the government in allowing a 12½ per cent increase in the price of Canadian-made farm implements should be immediately reconsidered to avoid serious upsets of 1946 production.

"This price rise has more seriously disturbed Canadian agriculture than any similar action of recent years," Mr. Hannam said in a statement. "Our national office has been swamped with telegrams from member bodies of the federation in all provinces, voicing vigorous protest against the increase in their costs of production without some promise of a general increase in prices of farm products all along the line, as was requested by the federation in its recent interview with the prime minister and the cabinet.

"AT THE VERY TIME when the world food situation is so critical and Canadian farmers feel deeply their responsibilities to produce to capacity, and when the farm labor situation is worse even than in war years, this drastic increase in costs while farm prices are still held down by ceilings is discouraging and disheartening in the extreme. A note of desperation is strongly evident in the protests we have received."

See Drilling Boom For Lloydminster

REGINA, April 16.—(CP)—An oil-drilling boom was in prospect today for the Lloydminster field on the Alberta - Saskatchewan boundary following the blow-in there Saturday of Saskatchewan's first "gusher" which is still producing steadily at the rate of 40 barrels an hour.

Charles H. Withers, Regina oil driller who visited the well, said today it was the largest well ever drilled that far north on the continent. The well gushed unchecked for almost 48 hours until brought under control last night with "chokes" to regulate the flow.

NATURAL RESOURCES Department officials here said the well had produced 3,500 barrels up to last night and word of the strike in the Lloydminster field, which lies 186 miles east of Edmonton, was expected to result in increased drilling activity there. They added the strike had caused interest in various parts of Canada and in the United States.

Hint Export Price Wheat Will Go Up

By VICTOR MACKIE
Edmonton Bulletin Ottawa Bureau

OTTAWA, April 16.—The suggestion thrown out by Agriculture Minister J. G. Gardiner, Monday night, in the farm implement price increase debate that other adjustments in the agricultural industry will follow in the near future is taken here as indication that an increase in the export price of wheat can be expected before the summer months.

THE MINISTER pointed out that the four cent increase in the outlet price was a 10 per cent increase and that there had been a six per cent increase on hogs. He said the wartime prices and trade board could not make all price adjustments effective at once. He said he was confident that "the adjustments that have been made will be followed up by more adjustments."

Officer of RCAF To Stand Trial

OTTAWA, April 16—(CP)—Magistrate Glenn Strike today said he would consent for trial Sqdn. Ldr. M. S. Nightingale, former RCAF communications expert on two espionage charges under the Official Secrets Act but declined to commit him on a conspiracy charge.

Another Secrets Act charge was withdrawn by the crown.

FORMAL COMMITTAL will be made later today.

The magistrate said their was not sufficient evidence to justify a committal for conspiracy. The crown had contended that several meetings with Major Rogov of the Russian embassy established an inference of conspiracy.

The magistrate said there was S. Gerson, Montreal, ex-munitions department official, on five charges under the Secrets Act but again declined to commit him on a conspiracy charge. Two other charges under the act were also discharged.

At Least Until Political Situation Stabilized

Premier of Japan to Carry On

TOKYO, April 16.—(BUP)—Baron Kijuro Shidehara indicated today he will stay on as Japan's premier at least until the political situation is "stabilized" and a new constitution adopted.

Shidehara told a press conference that he would be shirking his responsibility if he resigned now and left the task of drawing up the constitution to someone else.

HE SAID, HOWEVER, THAT HE had no political ambition and would gladly retire if he were assured of the formation of a stable coalition government.

Pointing out that no party gained an absolute majority in the recent Diet elections, Shidehara said the present political situation was "complicated," and that it could not be allowed to take its own course.

HE SAID THAT ALTHOUGH JAPAN faced difficult problems at home and abroad, the number of Japanese "who do not recognize that Japan is a defeated country is not small."

"These people, thinking on a peacetime basis, say that the war is over and that conditions should return quickly to normal," Shidehara said.

"I fear, however, that our difficulties will continue for some time and perhaps become worse.

"I CANNOT RESIGN AT A TIME WHEN our political picture is complicated and when it is unclear yet how we will form a stabilizing political power."

Sensational Gold Strike in South Africa

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa, April 16.—(Reuters)—The richest gold reef ever discovered in South Africa, containing 62.6 ounces of gold to the ton of rock, has been discovered five miles southeast of Odendalsrust in the Orange Free State, Blinkpoorts and Western Holdings announced jointly here today.

THE STRIKE yields 1.252 pennyweights over 18.4 inches, compared with the normal yield of 12 pennyweights. Up to now a yield of 80 to 100 pennyweights had been regarded as exceptional.

LONDON, April 16.—(Reuters)—Gold mining shares on the London and Johannesburg stock exchanges went wild today on news of a sensationally rich borehole strike in South Africa.

BLINKPOORT and Western holdings companies jointly announced that a borehole five miles southeast of Odendaalsrust, centre of the new Orange Free State goldfield, has intersected a reef assaying more than 23,000-inch pennyweights of gold to the ton of rock.

Nylon Wearers Urged to Find Own Foot Size

TORONTO, April 16—(CP)—Measure your feet in inches, girls, to find the proper size for your new nylons.

That's the advice of a manufacturer's representative who said today that many women complain their nylons are too small.

"The new full-fashioned nylons are made to correct size," he said. "But during the war, women became accustomed to rayon and lisle hose which have a tendency to stretch. Over a period of five years, most women built up a definite idea of hosiery size based on rayon standards.

"MANY RETAILERS advise women to buy a half-size larger in nylons, and consequently they are not getting a good fit.

"So measure your foot in inches. If your foot is wide, you may be more comfortable in a half-size larger; if very narrow, possibly a half-size shorter."

World's Worst Mining Disaster Finally Revealed

TOKYO, April 16.—(AP)—The world's worst mining disaster—an underground explosion which snuffed out 1,549 Chinese and Koreans lives in the Honkeiko colliery in Manchuria—was reported for the first time today by Allied headquarters—almost four years after it happened.

The accident occurred April 26, 1942, under Japanese occupation. It was kept secret by the military from even the Japanese government for a month.

THE EXPLOSION was set off by a short circuit which ignited methane gas. That exploded an accumulation of coal dust in tunnels for a distance of more than two kilometers (about 1¼ miles).

Most of the deaths were caused by carbon monoxide poisoning.

The only comparable mine disasters was at Pas De Calais, France, in 1906, when 1,100 French miners were killed, Canmack added.

Hint Troops Reason For No Charges

By R. H. SHACKFORD
Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin

NEW YORK, April 16.—(BUP) — American delegate Edward R. Stettinius, Jr., indirectly accused the Soviet Union today of using the presence of its troops in Iran to obtain that country's last-minute decision to withdraw its charges against Russia.

HIS STATEMENT and denial of Russian charges of Americans bad faith in the Iranian case came as Secretary General Trygve Lie submitted a long, technical memorandum suggesting it may no longer be possible legally to retain the Iranian case on the council agenda.

The memorandum was referred to the committee of experts for a two-day study—but meanwhile discussion continued.

French delegate Henry Bonnet also introduced a draft resolution for disposing of the Iranian case. He had suggested that it be dropped from the agenda as requested by Russia and Iran and left to Lie to report back when Russian troops have left Iran.

Plan Civil Travel On Alaska Road

It is practically certain that the Alaska Highway will have transportation and accommodation for civilian travel before the end of this summer, L. H. Phinney, special Canadian commissioner for northwest defence projects, stated Tuesday.

MR. PHINNEY revealed that British-Yukon Navigation Company of Whitehorse, that has been operating a tri-weekly schedule of bus service under contract to the military, has applied to the Dominion government for a franchise to continue the service as a civilian enterprise.

In its application the company stated it intends to construct tourist facilities all along the highway if successful in the application for a franchise.

AT PRESENT the highway is open only to army traffic and civilians travelling for official business reasons for which permits must be granted by Capt. T. Hogg of the highway traffic control board.

"It seems certain now that tourists will be able to travel over the highway before the end of the coming summer," Mr. Phinney told a newspaperman.

Farm Implement Price Boost Backed by Finance Minister

By D'ARCY O'DONNELL

OTTAWA, April 16.—(CP)—Finance Minister Ilsley said last night in the Commons that the government had not put the cart before the horse in allowing a 12½ per cent increase in the price of farm implements.

SPEAKING AFTER more than 20 members, including all opposition leaders, had protested against the increase, announced Saturday Mr. Ilsley said the Prices Board would allow no increase that was not absolutely necessary.

Opposition speakers claimed the government should lift the ceilings on farm products and wages in addition to increasing the price of implements.

Mr. Ilsley said the Prices Board was empowered to allow increases in the price of farm implements and that it had done so with the increase granted to the implement industry.

Since 1941 there had been repeated and upward adjustments of wages and prices on farm products, said Mr. Ilsley.

One of the reasons why the increase on implements had to be particular unit and vacancies will be filled through selection from among all officers available in any particular rank.

THE DEFENCE DEPARTMENT said it was expected the terms would become effective Oct. 1 and 'machinery is already in motion to amend existing regulations where they are inconsistent but in the meantime the selection of applicants will be governed by the new terms."

Release of the summary followed by 12 hours announcement of increased service pay rates.

Details of pensions and leaves for active servicemen will be announced later, it said.

The army will consist of three forces, the active, the reserve and the supplementary reserve. The first, organized for general service at home and abroad, will consist of a field force of about a brigade group, administrative and training staffs for units of the reserve force and appropriate training, headquarters establishments and other static units. Its strength will be about 25,000.

THE RESERVE FORCE'S six divisions will train 30 days a year and eventually 45 days. The supplementary reserve will contain "certain specified units of a technical nature and a reserve of officers and other ranks." It will carry specially qualified tradesmen and technicians. Annual training is not obligatory.

To receive a commission as 2nd lieutenant, a candidate must be between 18 and 25, have junior matriculation or equivalent for the reserve forces and a college degree for the active forces unless he has had active service in the last war in which case junior matriculation is satisfactory.

To be posted to a reserve unit, an officer must live in its recruitng area. A university graduate who has completed a military course will qualify as a reserve captain.

Reserve force rank of combatant veterans "will be governed by age and experience" but where possible it will be the same as that on demobilization.

DETERMINING FACTORS in selection of candidates for active force commissions will be "character, academic standing and general suitability for military employment." Qualification does not bespeak acceptance.

They must be university graduates or hold equivalent qualification, must have complete university military training or hold such military qualifications as may be promulgated from time to time.

Maximum age limit for lieutenants in the case of war veterans officers is 28 for armored, artillery, signals, infantry or service corps personnel, 30 for engineer and ordnance, 35 for medical, dental, provost and intelligence and 30 for chaplain, pay corps and general list. For the same categories, the maximums for lieutenant-colonels are 40, 45, 50 and 50.

Each year, a group of men will be selected from the ranks to train for commissions in university at public expense. They must be under 22, have at least 18 months' service, have senior matriculation standing and engage for active service for at least five years after graduation.

IN PROMOTION, vacancies will be filled by selection from among all officers available in the required rank or a lower rank. It will be based upon "ability, character, efficiency and suitability" and seniority generally will not be a determining factor.

A 2nd lieutenant may be promoted to lieutenant after six months in his appointment. Promotion to captain and above will be by vacancy in establishment but an officer must serve at least one year in any rank before promotion.

On reaching the rank of lieutenant and captain, officers will be required to qualify for promotion within four years.

Active force officers will be retired:

1. If physically incapable of meeting operational service unless posted to base-type establishments.

2. On failure to qualify for the next rank, but retirement will be held up for 12 months to permit plans for civilian rehabilitation.

3. Generally, on reaching the age limits—brigadier and above 55; colonel 53; lieutenant-colonel 51; major 49; captain 47; lieutenant 45.

4. When captains who have qualified for promotion or passed the staff college and when majors who have passed the staff college have completed four years in rank and are not suitable for promotion they will be retired after eight years in rank or on reaching their age limit, whichever is the earlier.

IN THE RESERVE force, the same age limits apply and after three years' service officers may ask for transfer to the supplementary reserve.

Other ranks in the active force must generally be between 18 and 25 on enlistment but skilled tradesmen or technicians may be accepted up to 35 years.

Officer Is Acquitted Of Swearing Charge

LONDON, April 16—(CP)—A Canadian army general court martial, after hearing a story of "hitches and delays" in a leave party which Maj. Halford D. Wilson of Vancouver was conducting from the continent, yesterday acquitted the officer of one charge of using improper language and announced findings on another similar charge would be promulgated.

THE CHARGE on which the former Vancouver alderman was acquitted concerned a telephone call he made from Liverpool Street station in London to a duty officer at Canadian military headquarters here.

The other charge involved use of obscene and abusive language at Waterloo station to which the party was conducted from Liverpool Street station.

Maj. Wilson said he had had no sleep since leaving the hook of Holland and became agitated and annoyed at finding no transport available as promised. There were "hitches and delays on the whole journey," he added.

Maj. A. H. Johnson of Victoria, the CMHQ duty officer, said the Vancouver officer was "very pugilistic in his language about all forbears of personnel of Canadian military headquarters."

MAJ. WILSON DENIED using expressions about CMHQ personnel attributed to him. What he did say was "it's about time some of you fellows got your . . . out of cushions and took some action."

The accused officer denied saying he would complain to Howard Green, Progressive Conservative member of the Canadian parliament for Vancouver South who was "indulgent to the interests of the troops overseas" but he did say that if Mr. Green knew how they were being treated he would do something about it.

Spain Is Fearful Of Russ Invasion

LONDON, April 16—(AP)—Madrid radio expressed fear that Russia was planning to invade Spain as the Franco government awaited replies today from five "friendly" powers whom Generalissimo Francisco Franco has invited to send technicians to investigate charges that Spain is a threat to world peace.

These charges, together with an assertion that Spain was harboring German scientists, were made by Oscar Lange, Polish delegate to the United Nations Security Council. The Council, meeting in New York today, is scheduled to take up the Spanish question as soon as it disposes of the Russian-Iranian dispute.

THE SPANISH foreign ministry announced last night that it had extended formal invitations to five council members which maintain "friendly relations" with the Franco government.

The countries are the United States, Britain, Egypt, The Netherlands and Brazil.

The Madrid radio, which is controlled by the Franco regime, said there was a secret agreement between France and Russia which might lead to a Soviet march through France and into Spain.

(The existence of any such agreement was promptly denied in Paris by a source close to the French foreign office).

Police conducting an intensive anti-gambling drive said when two or more persons congregate on street corners to read scratch sheets, provisions of the disorderly conduct law apply.

Butte Relaxing Following Riots

BUTTE, Mont., April 16—(AP)—This strike-bound copper capital of 40,000 began relaxing today from three days and nights of rioting as police credited volunteer war veterans and members of the striking CIO Miners' Union with helping ease the tension.

WHILE POLICE last night waited for telephone callers to carry out threats to visit more homes of non-strikers, representatives of the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers (CIO) patrolled Butte pleading with crowds to keep order.

Groups of girls, boys and women broke up without trouble and a police spokesman said:

"We don't expect any more trouble, and won't need outside help."

City Naval Force Will Be 660 Men

Reserve establishment of the Royal Canadian Navy in Edmonton will be 60 officers and 600 of other ranks, Cmdr. Paul W. Earl, CBE, former chief of naval personnel and second member of the naval personnel and second member of the naval board, RCN, Ottawa, stated here Tuesday.

CMDR. EARL is on an inspection tour of western naval establishments and visited HMCS Nonsuch here Tuesday morning.

He said the higher rates of pay for personnel in the Royal Canadian Navy as announced Monday seems likely to stimulate the recruiting of permanent peacetime naval forces.

The basic rates of monthly pay for ratings is now at a $50 minimum as compared to the $37.50 paid under the former schedule.

IT IS ALSO FELT that men with higher educational qualifications will now be attracted to service in the Canadian Navy. The physical standards always have been very high, he said.

The commander expressed satisfaction at the recent appointment of Lt.-Cmdr. Rodney Pike, former Edmonton resident, as commanding officer of Nonsuch.

He said the navy has been receiving a particularly fine type of recruit from the ranks of the Sea Cadets of Canada, which organization is receiving whole-hearted support from naval headquarters at Ottawa.

DEMOBILIZATION of the wartime navy is being rapidly completed. The Wrens will have passed out of the picture by August 31 next.

Accidental Spark Sets $750,000 Fire

ROSLYN, N.Y., April 16—(AP)—A spark set off by a painter scraping a wall covered with inflamable paint remover caused a fire yesterday which destroyed the home of Samuel Rubel, Brewery magnate, firemen said. LONDON, April 16—(CP)—Prime Minister Attlee announced yesterday in the House of Commons a plan for granting bonuses up to £125 ($556) to men who re-enlist in the armed forces for periods of three to four years. Goal of the new plan is 187,300 additional men—100,800 for the army, 600,000 for the RAF and 26,500 for the navy.

Iranian Case

meeting closed—after Gromyko had impugned the motives of both the United States and Great Britain.

"I feel deeply sorrow," Stettinius began, "that the Soviet delegate has questioned the motives of the U.S. delegation.

My government had only one motive in mind and that was fulfilling the charter of the United Nations."

Stettinius said he would not engage in the same sort of charges used by Soviet Delegate Andrei A. Gromyko.

BUT HE ADDED that the council could not ignore the fact that the sudden reversal of the Iranian government's position yesterday took place while Russian troops were still in Iran and the fact that the major issue before the council has been the presence of troops in Iran after the March 2 treaty date for evacuation.

Stettinius was referring to the fact that Iran, just an hour before yesterday's meeting, reversed its earlier appeal for the council to keep control of the Iranian case and withdrew its charges against Russia. Dispatches from Iran today indicated that heavy Soviet pressure had been used against the Iranian government.

STETTINIUS REITERATED his previously stated position that if Soviet troops were out of Iran before May 6—the new date promised by Russia—the Iranian case could be disposed of. But until such time, he insisted the Iranian case should stay on the agenda.

Russia delivered the first blow to relations with Britain and America by accusing her wartime partners of acting in bad faith in the Iranian case.

But American officials emphasized that the Russians chose to ignore the major issue—removal of Red Army troops from Iran.

IF BOTH IRAN and Russia could report today—or anytime before the May 6 deadline—that evacuation of Iranian territory was complete, the United States would be willing and happy to declare the Iranian case closed.

But Russia has shown no inclination to do so and resents the council's insistence upon keeping a finger in Iran until the last Red army soldier has left that country.

When the angriest Big Three debate since UN moved to the new world resumed, U.S. delegate Edward R. Stettinius, Jr., and British delegate Sir Alexander Cadogan were prepared to reply to Soviet delegate Andrei A. Gromyko's insinuations, made at the close of yesterday's meeting.

BUT NEITHER Stettinius nor Cadogan, according to their spokesmen, intends to engage in recriminations with Gromyko. They will deny forth-rightly Gromyko's grave charges, but not in kind.

"The United States has not and will not question the motives of any member of the council," an American official said shortly after Gromyko had impugned both British and American motives.

That was the official's answer when asked what Stettinius would say to Gromyko's bitter assertions that the U. S. and Britain:

1. Had no "real and genuine desire" to see a peaceful solution of the Soviet-Iranian problem.

2. Stirred up a "maximum furl" at the very moment Russia and Iran had solved their problems.

3. Were using Iran as a pawn.

Just a week ago Iran pleaded with the council—despite its new agreement with Russia—to keep her case on the agenda until the last Russian troops were evacuated.

Yesterday, after a last-minute conference between the Iranian premier and the Soviet ambassador in Tehran, Iran withdrew its complaint against Russia because of its "complete confidence in the word and pledge" of Russia. But most council members wanted the case kept on the agenda despite Iran's withdrawal.

AMERICAN OFFICIALS emphasized that the main issue from their point of view is removal of Red Army troops from Iran.

The United States categorically rejected the Russian view that the council acted illegally and incorrectly on April 4—when Russia was boycotting the council. It also disagreed completely with the Soviet view that keeping Iran on the Council agenda infringed Iranian sovereignty. Americans pointed out that the council does not intend to "meddle" in the Iranian situation and that there was nothing for either Iran or Russia to do except report on May 6 that Russian troops have left Iran.

The sudden revival of another Big Three fight over Iran caused a temporary loss of interest in another forthcoming split over Poland's charges against Franco Spain. Polish Ambassador Oscar Lange is still drafting his case against Franco and expected to be ready to present it as soon as the showdown with Russia on Iran is over.

YESTERDAY'S COUNCIL meeting, the first in nearly a week, started quietly with Iran's formal withdrawal of her complaint against Russia, and Gromyko's immediate demand that the council wipe Iran off its agenda.

But tenseness increased and by the time Gromyko had spoken a third time, tempers were at the breaking point.

Contend Russians Influenced Ghavam

By SAM SOUKI
Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin

TEHRAN, April 16.—(BUP)—Iranian sources contended today that Premier Ahmed Ghavam ordered the Iranian complaint against Russia withdrawn from the United Nations Security Council at the direct insistance of the Soviet.

THESE QUARTERS said that Soviet Ambassador Ivan Sadchikov told Ghavam that Russia would feel "insulted" unless Iran ordered its delegate, Hussein Ala, to withdraw the charges.

They said that under the circumstances Ghavam had no alternative but dispatch his latest instructions to Ala.

They pointed out that Sadchikov visited Ghavam at least three times, each time reiterating in forceful terms that the Red army would live up to its promise to get out of Iran completely by May 6. In view of this Sadchikov made it plain to Ghavam that Russia saw no purpose in Iran continuing its complaint before the security council.

GHAVAM WAS SAID to reason that in view of Sadchikov's attitude it was more tactful not to mention to him that Russia had promised before to get troops out of Iran but had not carried out the promise.

He was said to feel that Iran must follow a policy of good neighborliness toward its northern neighbor at almost any cost.

"The British and Americans," one senior Iranian official said, "don't realize that we have got our head in the bear's mouth."

stables W. J. Longstreet and H. I. Moore. A coat found in the skating rink was identified as belonging to John O'Mally, who claimed that it had been stolen from him earlier in the evening. A rifle and suitcase, belonging to Caddy and Webber, were found lying on the ground just outside the skating rink house, where they had been dropped by the escaping men.

Jacobson and two unidentified men were discovered leaning in a window at the rear of the Castle hotel, late Monday evening by Constables S. P. P. Rigley and W. H. Goebel. As the police officers approached, two of the men jumped through the window into room No. 67 and escaped through the hotel. Jacobson was apprehended before he could get away and taken into custody.

A BOTTLE OF RYE whiskey and four bottles of beer are alleged to have been taken from the room. The bottle of rye was found lying on the ground outside the window.

Two houses owned by A. C. Liskear, 10156 120 street, and Mickey Dlin, 11608 102 avenue, were broken into and ransacked between 7:30 p.m. and 10:30 p.m. Monday. A $10 bill and a pair of new black shoes were taken from Mr. Liskear's home, while $12 and an electric razor are missing from the Dlin residence. The culprit who broke into Liskear's home left an old worn pair of brown shoes in exchange for the black pair.

ABOUT $2.50 IN change was obtained by a thief who reached through the bedroom window at the home of Frank S. Bryden, 10470 78 avenue and snatched Mr. Brydon's trousers. Loss was discovered about 1:50 a.m. when Mrs. Brydon was awakened by a noise at the window. The pants were found lying on the ground under the window.

Just two hours later Maurice Descoteau and Ab Groychuk, who reside in the New Star rooms, awoke to find a man leaning over the foot of Descoteau's bed. He ran off as the men yelled at him. About $58 was taken from clothing in the room.

CHARLES WILSON, manager of the Edmonton Exhibition Association, reported Monday afternoon that vandals had broken into and caused extensive damage to the manufacturers' building in the exhibition grounds. The ceiling was broken through, doors broken and panels in the walls smashed out. Four large sheets of canvas on the stalls have been stolen.

Three Coca-Cola company trucks that have been stored in the building were ransacked and clearance lights and gas tank caps removed. Entry to the building was gained through a second storey window.

Ex-Film Board Head To Produce "Shorts"

NEW YORK, April 16.—(CP)—John Grierson, former head of the Canadian Film Board, has formed a new film producing organization which plans to film 39 short subjects annually, dealing with world affairs and discoveries in science and nature, it was learned. Associated with Mr. Grierson are Stuart Legg, producer of the Canadian Film Board's "World in Action" series, and Basil Wright, former head of the British Crown Film unit. The new company, named The World Today, will maintain units in London, New York and Canada.

reported driving north from that city in an attempt to relieve the besieged Changchun garrison. They were meeting fairly stiff opposition.

Observers here pointed out that Changchun was held by a force of only 12,000 government peace preservation troops, plus a few thousand Nationalist troops flown in some months ago. They faced a Communist Army of some 80,000 which the city surrounded.

They said the city's fall might be expected momentarily.

THE COMMUNISTS captured three airfields in the vicinity of Changchun soon after they launched their attack Sunday as Russian occupation forces were withdrawn.

Jap Weeps For Joy At Light Sentence

SHANGHAI, April 16.—(AP)—Japanese defence counsel wept with joy yesterday when an American military commission assessed unexpectedly light prison sentences of five years for three Japanese officers, and nine years for a fourth, for participation in the trial and execution of three United States fliers who bombed Tokyo in April, 1942. The death penalty could have been imposed, but the five United States commissioners held as "an unusually strong mitigating consideration" that the Japanese were simply obeying orders from higher up.

Now 23 Generals In Canadian Army

OTTAWA, April 16.—(CP)—Information on the number of senior officers in the Canadian Active Army was tabled yesterday in the Commons for Col. Alan Cockeram (PC—York South). The army reported five lieutenant-generals; 18 major generals, 46 brigadiers and 121 colonels. Of the total 23 were seconded to other departments. Promotions had been received by 21 of the senior officers since VJ-Day.

British Troops Have Quit Syria

DAMASCUS, Syria, April 16—(Reuters)—The last contingent of British troops in Syria, under the command of Col. F. R. H. Morgan, area commander, Damascus, marched out of the city yesterday, deadline under the agreement reached in Paris for simultaneous withdrawal of British and French troops.

Thief Makes Off With Nylon Hose

DETROIT, April 16—(AP)—A nylon line at a Woodward avenue dress shop broke up in a hurry yesterday when the 600 waiting women learned a non-paying customer got there first. The manager, Abe Raitt, reported to police a burglar drilled 32 holes in the roof to enter during the night, walked off with 162 pairs of hose and other items valued at $4,000.

Women Rioters Quelled by Cold

PORTAGE LA PRAIRIE, Man., April 16.—(CP)—Forty-five prisoners at the Manitoba provincial jail for women abandoned their nearly 30-hour defiance of guards and police early today in the face of dropping temperatures which chilled their windowless citadel.

THEY HAD HELD undisputed possession of the badly-damaged building for hours after police had been repelled in an attempt to enter the jail and restore order and tear gas had proved ineffective.

But police strategy of allowing the women to "cool off" finally won the battle. The temperature was hovering around the 43-degree mark when the surrender came.

The scene had been fairly quiet for some time before that. After their unsuccessful effort to break up the demonstration with tear gas, the officers had withdrawn, content to leave a cordon around the jail to prevent any attempt at escape.

SOME OF THE WOMEN had gone back to their cells but others wandered from window to window shouting, "We want the attorney-general" and occasionally singing, "Don't Fence Me In". The police just waited.

The jail is in downtown Portage La Prairie, a city of about 7,900 population 56 miles west of Winnipeg, and some of the women shouted to passers-by that "no one in Portage will sleep tonight."

While officials would make no comment and no details were divulged, it was learned the first disturbance came at the evening meal Sunday night when the women began shouting for "good food" and chanting "we are on strike." The female guards were unable to restore order.

Brigadier Walsh Goes to Ottawa

To complete final arrangement for organizing his command, Brig. J. Walsh planned to return to Whitehorse in a few days where his command headquarters are located.

Create New Set-Up In Irrigation Area

LETHBRIDGE, April 16—(CP)—Agriculture Minister D. B. MacMillan, said yesterday an order-in-council had been passed creating a new set-up for the old A. R. and I. irrigation block in Southern Alberta. This will bring the projects involved under government control and administration. Mr. MacMillan said he had appointed P. M. Sauder, of the Western Irrigation district, Strathmore, and formerly of Lethbridge, as manager, and George S. Brown of Lethbridge, assistant manager. The order now is in effect.

Quebec Woman in Marital Dilemma

MONTREAL, April 16.—(CP)—Under a decision handed down by Mr. Justice Philippe Demers in superior court yesterday, Cecile Leduc, of Montreal, finds herself in a matrimonial dilemma. Although the court ruled she is legally the wife of her second husband, the Roman Catholic Church, to which she belongs, has refused to recognize annulment of her first marriage.

Navy Station Bans Outdoor Love-Making

SAN DIEGO, Calif., April 16—(AP)—Outdoor love making at the navy station here has been banned for naval personnel and civilians.

In an order making it a disciplinary offence, Capt. Leslie E. Gehres, station commandant, noted:

"There has been a steadily growing display of affection, commonly called 'necking,' on the part of some men and women.

"WHILE EVERYONE, including the captain, will generally agree that, under proper conditions, this is an absorbing and pleasurable pastime, it is not generally considered an outdoor daytime sport."

Minister Ponders Action on Radio

Though no action has yet been taken in protect against the decision of the board of governors of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation who refused the application of CKUA for permission to build a 50,000 watt radio station at Red Deer and who maintain their previous refusal of a public commercial for the station, there is no intention on the part of the Alberta government to let the matter rest there, according to Hon. W. A. Fallow, minister of telephones on Tuesday morning.

Farm Implements

granted was because wages in that industry had increased by 28½ per cent.

The average hourly rate in the Massey-Harris plant in Toronto had moved from 51½ cents an hour in 1939 to almost 80 cents an hour in 1946.

TO THOSE WHO ARGUED the government took only the side of big business, he wished to point to the fact that wages generally were 45 per cent higher in 1944 than they were during the 1935-1939 period.

Mr. Ilsley said it was utterly impossible to maintain rigid controls indefinitely.

Constitutionally the government did not have the right to continue the controls indefinitely and for that reason a measure of decontrol was necessary.

Mr. Ilsley said the whole record of the prices board was in the consumer's interest.

MR. ILSLEY SAID the prices of farm products at present were up over 1941 figures all along the line.

They included these percentage increases:

Potatoes, 135; wheat, 67; oats, 65; barley, 62; hogs, 51 and due to go up to 70 per cent. with a recent increase; cattle, 40; fluid milk, 28; butter, 29; and eggs, 28.

All in all, the increase in the prices of farm products over 1941 was 44 per cent. while the increase in the prices of farm implements in the same period was a bare three per cent.

The new increase in farm implement prices would apply to only domestic items which would mean the over-all increase since 1941 would be nine per cent.

Mr. Ilsley said the government would not have permitted the increase had it not felt that it was necessary. Far from removing controls the government actually was maintaining "rigid and severe" controls on farm implements.

THE MINISTER SAID the farm implement companies themselves had submitted that the 12½ per cent. increase was "entirely" inadequate" in view of increased costs of labor, material and overhead.

He read telegrams received yesterday in which companies complained of the increase, because it was too modest, left them in an "unsound and unsatisfactory" financial position. Some companies felt the increase was "most disappointing."

The government, said Mr. Ilsley, did not propose to act upon those telegrams. The Prices Board had given lengthy study to the submissions of the companies and was satisfied that a 12½ per cent. increase was sufficient.

The administration acted as it did in the interests of the farmers and the people of Canada. It could, Mr. Ilsley added, take the course the Progressive Conservative party came "very near advocating" that of "letting prices go"—a policy that would have led to a situation similar to that which developed after the First Great War when prices of farm implements climbed to 98 per cent over their 1914 levels.

DURING THIS WAR, while the government was lifting farm prices in 1942, 1943, 1944 and 1945, it was keeping farm implement prices down. This year, with the increases in prices of steel, in labor and in overhead, the government felt it was time to allow a "modest" increase in farm implement levels.

There were differences between price and wage increases. Wage if injustices were disclosed after prolonged investigation. However, price increase could not be made retroactive and that was one reason why there could not be prolonged public inquiry to see whether such increases were justified.

He believed the public would have to have confidence in the Prices Board. The board has taken a good deal of abuse from those who wanted higher prices. He thought the board's record was such that those who wanted low prices could trust it.

THE GOVERNMENT was not compelling the companies to increase the prices by 12½ per cent. The duty and war exchange taxes were removed so that the Canadian companies who have to compete with incoming machinery from the United States.

Increases could be made retroactive

The question was raised as to whether the Prices Board advised the government to increase the prices or whether the government advised the board. Mr. Ilsley said the Board advised him it was convinced the increase was necessary. He consented and took responsibility for it.

He had not been approached by the implement companies nor had he met representatives of any of the companies.

J. M. MacDonnell (PC-Muskoka-Ontario) urged a committee be established to study the question of Decontrol. Such a committee would be able to call witnesses of labor, agriculture and industry and through the evidence the people could probably better understand the reasons why decontrol actions were being taken.

AGRICULTURE Minister Gardiner said he felt he was as opposed to higher prices for farm implements as anyone, believing as he did that they were too high.

He felt Mr. Ilsley's statement was fair as to what happened between 1941 as to the farmer's prices and as to those of the companies.

The suggestion was often made that farmers were well off. It was true that during the war years the farmers had reduced their indebtedness to mortgage companies from $168,000,000 in 1939 to $66,000,000 in 1945. However, any group which still was in debt by $66,000,000 could not be considered well off.

Mr. Gardiner said the Prices Board had made many increases in prices for farm products. The four-cent a pound increase in the price of butter represented an increase of 10 per cent. Recent increases in the prices of hogs represented a bonus of six per cent.

THE PRICES BOARD could not make all adjustments at once. He was confident the current adjustments would be followed by other adjustments and when all changes were made a good job would be done. Farmers could then go on paying off their debt and gradually build their prosperity.

After Mr. Gardiner concluded his speech, John Bracken, Progressive Conservative leader, withdrew the motion on which the discussion had occurred. Mr. Bracken had moved the house adjourn its other business to discuss the implement price increase and the debate followed.

Earlier, Mr. Ilsley said in a statement to the house that the government felt the board's action was justified under the circumstances. A flood of protests against the increase then were heard.

The protests came from all opposition party leaders, some of their supporters and from George Cruickshank (L-Fraser valley) after Mr. Ilsley had read the statement outlining the reasons for the board's action.

MR. BRACKEN SAID he wished to protest against the increase because there was no corresponding increase allowed in the prices for farm products.

Mr. Coldwell said he could see no justification for the increase in the price of implements or for the recent boost in the price of steel.

Solon Low, Social Credit leader, said he was not convinced the increase was justified and he asked for the production of further facts and figures. If the increase was justified he felt it should be borne by a subsidy taken out of the taxes of all people.

Among speakers supporting the opposition leaders in their protest against the farm machinery price increase were Frank Zaplitny (CCF-Dauphin); Victor Quelch (SC-Acadia); H. G. Archibald (CCF-Skeena); Patrick Ashby (SC-Edmonton East); T. J. Bentley (CCF-Swift Current); H. W. Herridge (People's CCF-Kootenay West); Robert Fair (SC-Battle River); R. R. Knight (CCF-Saskatoon), and Rev. E. G. Hansell (SC-Macleod).

Mr. Bentley said that in pre-war years Liberal governments in Ottawa and Saskatchewan established committees which found that the prices of farm machinery were too high.

HE BELIEVED there was no real reason for the price increase, despite the submissions made by implement companies. He felt Mr. Ilsley was too sympathetic with profit-hungry capitalistic organizations which had always made more money than they were entitled to and which exercised undue influence over some groups.

Mr. Hansell said the increase was "another piece of glaring evidence of government by bureaucracy."

This action had the effect of a rise in the tariff structure and yet this had been no opportunity for discussion.

Mr. Knight said he also wished to protest an action which raised the price of farmers' implements without at the same time permitting a rise in the price of their products.

Labor was being forgotten and would not get its fair share of the increase.

MR. FAIR SAID tariffs should come down. Many things used in Canada could be bought for 90 per cent less in the United States.

Before the price increase was permitted, there should be an inquiry to determine whether it was justified.

Mr. Herridge said he was disappointed to see the increase, although he appreciated the difficulties facing the finance minister.

Canada was entering a new phase of "state capitalism" and the government should attempt to reach such decisions as this in a more democratic way.

R. S. Moore (CCF-Churchill) said he felt the increase was a breach of contract. Farm prices were held at definite levels during the war and now farmers were being asked to pay more for things essential to them.

HE SAID HE BELIEVED the board was in the hands of men who controlled production. He felt that agriculture and labor should be represented on the board.

Angus MacInnis (CCF-Vancouver East) said that when workers wanted more money they had to first hold a strike vote and then appear before a labor board which had representatives of labor and industry among its members. Either side could appeal the board's findings. Everything was done in the open.

But when the businessmen wanted to increase their prices they went into a closed session with the government, to talk it over, and there was no appeal. There was no reason why the manufacturers should not go through the same procedure as the workers when they wanted more money.

D. S. Harkness (PC-Calgary East) said the high price of farm machinery always had been a source of "anguish" for farmers.

THE NEW INCREASE would cause much "discontent" and do much to discourage production if prices of farm products also were not increased.

William Irvine (CCF-Cariboo) said he hoped that when John Bracken, Progressive Conservative leader, moved that the House adjourn to discuss the price increase he was not doing so because of a "soft spot" for the manufacturers.

The government was allowing an increase in the prices of goods without allowing an increase in farm prices and wages. The responsibility rested with the government.

Anthony Hlynka (SC, Vegreville) said the government should not make "this present" to the companies at the expense of the farmers.

THE FARMERS WERE in the market for new machinery and some of the companies perhaps felt this was the time to "skin" the farmers. If the increase was not rescinded, the house would have failed the farmers.

Rather than increasing the price, the government should reduce the price of farm machinery.

Hugh Castleden (CCF, Yorkton) said the government had made a mistake in increasing the prices because it took the security out of farming. People now would not go into agriculture.

The farmer always had accepted the theory that the seller made the price for a commodity but he, when he went to market, found the buyers set the price. There should be a floor under farm prices and a guarantee against such increases as this.

The farmers were not producing as they should because their returns were not sufficiently high.

F. W. Townley-Smith (CCF, North Battleford) said he did not believe the increase would speed the manufacture of farm implements.

FARMERS WERE reaching a point of frustration where they were about ready to let everything go. The move was untimely and unwise.

A. M. Nicholson (CCF-Mackenzie) told of the costs of equipment to western province farmers and the result upon their general production costs.

He protested against Finance Minister Ilsley yielding to the pressure of the implement-manufacturing companies. The minister had gained the respect of the Canadian people through the maintenance of price ceiling, but he was in danger of losing their faith.

D. J. McCuaig (CCF-Maple Creek) said the implement companies had made huge profits, even after accounting for war taxes. The profits of the farmers did not even approach those of the companies.

Income tax exemptions should be raised. Eighty-five per cent of the people earned less than $1,500 a year. They were the backbone of the country, the salt of the earth.

Woman Is Warned For Feeding Ducks

Admits Abducting Child For Mother

PORT ARTHUR, April 16.—(CP)—Harry J. Spannier of Winnipeg, a private investigator, testified in district court yesterday he had been engaged by Mrs. David M. McIntyre to "protect" her and to abduct 5½-year-old Douglas M. McIntyre, her son.

Mr. and Mrs. McIntyre had been separated, and the son was in the father's custody in Port Arthur. The boy was abducted from a downtown millinery shop Feb. 8.

Spannier was the first witness as the trial of Mrs. Esther Beardon of Neudorff, Sask., 38-year-old mother of four children, charged with abduction. She is a sister-in-law of Mrs. McIntyre. He told Judge T. M. Mulligan how he and Mrs. Beardon entered the shop where the child was with its grandmother and aunt.

SPANNIER SAID he picked up the child himself and took him to a parked automobile in which Mrs. McIntyre was awaiting. Later, they motored to Winnipeg.

Several other witnesses testified, telling of seeing a man and woman running from the shop, carrying the child.

The trial is continuing.

Too Much Butter On American Ship

VANCOUVER, April 16.—(CP)—A United States vessel, the Fairmont Victory, arrived here over the week-end with 1,200 pounds of surplus butter in her holds and Capt. H. C. Gibb said the butter will stay aboard when the ship sails for England and still be there when it arrives back in America. Capt. Gibb said the butter was declared surplus by the United States War Shipping Administration when the vessel arrived at Seattle a month ago with troops from Yokohama. WSA said to leave the butter aboard because they had no use for it, said Capt. Gibb.

STUDEBAKER acquires new factory... inaugurates expansion program in Canada

Large-scale manufacture of Studebaker cars and trucks soon to start in huge plant at Hamilton, Ontario

HISTORY-MAKING business news—full of vital meaning to every motor car and truck user in the Dominion—is this announcement of a greatly expanded Studebaker manufacturing program in Canada.

Commencing just as soon as requisite equipment can be installed, fine new Studebaker motor vehicles in ever-increasing quantities will stream off modern production lines in the spacious new factory in Hamilton, Ontario, which The Studebaker Corporation of Canada, Limited, has acquired.

Strategically situated in the heart of industrial Canada near most of the automotive parts suppliers, this Studebaker plant will enjoy many manufacturing economies which will be passed along to Canadian consumers in the form of higher quality and lower prices. This plant is ideally located for shipment of its finished motor cars and trucks, too, whether by railroad, water route or driveaway.

Employment for many Canadians is anticipated, once this modern automotive factory starts production.

Canadian materials and Canadian parts suppliers will get precedence, wherever possible. The Studebaker cars and trucks produced in this great new plant will be Canadian in the highest possible degree—engineered and constructed to rank with the world's finest.

As one of Canada's pioneer automobile manufacturers, and heir to the greatest tradition of fine automotive craftsmanship on the North American continent, The Studebaker Corporation of Canada, Limited, is proud to have the opportunity this new manufacturing program affords to help Canada and Canadians march toward their goal of industrial progress and prosperity.

FACTS ABOUT STUDEBAKER'S NEW HAMILTON, ONTARIO, CAR AND TRUCK FACTORY

Size and Type of Building—An L-shaped, modern, steel-concrete-and-brick one-story structure extending 806 feet by 524 feet at its greatest width and depth. Total floor area in excess of 300,000 square feet. Ideally laid out for car and truck production.

Land Area Involved—Approximately 17 acres—which gives the Studebaker Corporation of Canada, Limited, additional land area for future expansion.

Business Offices—Headquarters for Studebaker's wholesale as well as manufacturing activities in Canada will be located here. Office space of more than 30,000 square feet is provided for, above sections of the manufacturing area.

Former Occupancy—This new Studebaker headquarters was built by the Canadian Government during the war for the production of anti-aircraft guns for the Allied Nations. Studebaker's acquisition of the property proves the use to which properly constructed war plants can be adapted for peace-time production.

The Councils Won't Act

Ordinarily there would be wordy war clear across Canada if the Dominion Government undertook to say how many building permits, and for what kind of buildings, were to be issued in cities and towns. This is a long-established and fully recognized right of the municipal councils. It was only suspended under war conditions and for war reasons, the suspending being done indirectly by granting or with-holding priorities for materials and labor.

The fighting ended last summer, but the councils are now demanding that the Dominion continue to exercise control over the amount and kind of building that can be done in any centre. They are demanding this by refusing to exercise the power that reverted to them a few weeks ago when the federal control orders were dropped.

Faced with the responsibility of saying whether and to what extent industrial and commercial building should be delayed in order to speed construction of homes for veterans, the councils declined to function. If there is to be any "funneling" of materials and labor into homes for the returned men, the Dominion will therefore have to do it. The councils have refused.

Taxicab Crowding

In Toronto they have banned the wartime practice of "sharing" taxicab rides. It is time the same ban was applied in Edmonton.

Under the taxi-sharing system, which was reasonable enough during the war, three or four or more people leaving a railway station or a hotel and going in the same general direction share the same cab. It is an inconvenient and objectionable mode of transportation. But, when such economy was necessary for war purposes, it did save tires and gasoline.

There is absolutely no need for this taxi-jamming now. And Edmonton, like Toronto, should put an end to it.

It seems quite inexplicable that the city should make any difficulty about licensing any number of new taxicab companies so long as this sharing business is allowed to continue.

If there are so few taxis in Edmonton that the sharing is necessary, then more taxi companies should be licensed.

On the other hand, if there are already enough cabs in Edmonton to serve the public properly, as city officials argue, then any train passenger or traveler, or taxi-using residents should be entitled to hire a cab for his or their own private use without being packed in with a lot of strangers. The fare is high enough to pay for privacy.

How to Get Bigger Rations

No consumer cheers followed the announcement that butter rations will have to stay at four ounces per week until the middle of May, and that restoration of the six-ounce coupon value cannot be looked for before June. And no outburst of applause was expected.

A few days before the announcement was made figures were published which showed that butter reserves at the beginning of April were far below those of last year and out of comparison with the average at that date in former years. The restricted ration just means that the merchant can't pass on to the consumer what he hasn't and cannot get.

Even the hope of a 50 per cent increase in the allowance at the first of June hangs on the chance that pasture will by that time increase the flow of milk and therefore the butter output by a corresponding percentage. If the cows fail to respond, or if the extra milk is put to other use, the consumer's four ounces cannot become six. There isn't any other source of supply.

Thus the butter question comes back to the proposition to which all other shortage questions lead. Increased production will cure the scarcity, enlarge the allowances, and eventually end the need of rationing. Nothing else can. The rationing officials cannot divide up what does not exist.

Why All the Rush?

The House of Commons voted to change Dominion Day to Canada Day. The Senate has not yet considered the question. Nothing will be lost if the Upper Chamber should refuse to pass the bill at this session, and thus allow time for the public to do some thinking on the matter.

Whoever originated the proposal, it came "out of the blue" so far as the mass of the Canadian people are concerned. They had no advance notice of the move, and are entitled to a chance to find out why the change is proposed, what it would signify, what could be gained by it, and what has made Dominion Day an inappropriate, or less appropriate, name for the national anniversary.

One obvious point is that, historically, Dominion Day is more correct. Canada did not come into existence on July 1st, 1867. The Dominion did.

Long before that time the word Canada was applied to both Ontario and Quebec, and before the whites came it was used by the Indians to denote a limited and indefinite region afterward included in those provinces. "Canada" never denoted the region which is now comprised within the Dominion. "Dominion" was adopted to denote this territory.

July 1st therefore marks the birthday of our Dominion. It does not mark the birthday of any political entity to which the name "Canada" ever was applied previously.

Perhaps there are reasons why this traditional association should be ignored, Dominion Day abandoned, and Canada Day substituted. At least the public should have a chance to hear what these reasons are, to judge of their weight—and to register their reaction for the direction of their representatives in parliament.

But if the public are to have this opportunity they will owe it to the Senate. The Commons didn't give them a chance to say what they thought. The proposal was simply railroaded through by the Commoners as though it wasn't any of the public's business.

In Russia and in Alberta

It is now revealed that the February elections in the Soviet Union resulted in a total poll of 101,459,936 votes or 99.7 per cent of the total number on the election register. In 13 of the 16 Soviet republics, the percentage was higher than this figure. Only in Latvia, Estonia and Lithuania did the vote fall below the average and their figures were respectively 99.16, 98.71 and 91.78.

A comparison with Canada in this respect is startling. In the Canadian general elections of 1940, the percentage of the possible vote which was polled was 70. Yukon was high with 82 percent. Alberta was low with 63 percent.

Russia's system is a peculiar system and certainly not a system conducive, one would imagine, to a large vote. For the result, obviously, was a foregone conclusion. No candidates were permitted except those of the Communist party or approved by the party. The only function of the voter was to express approval or disapproval of such candidates. No ballot had more than one name on it. The voter approved by dropping it in the box unmarked. He expressed disapproval by crossing out the name.

Those who expressed disapproval number only 819,699 or a little more than three-quarters of one per cent of the number voting.

This is not a franchise which should excite the electors to any great interest. Yet 99.7 of them voted.

In Alberta, one of the most democratic provinces of Canada, only 63 percent voted.

One of the most serious defects in democracy seems to be that it inclines those who most enjoy its benefits and privileges to take an exceedingly light view of its responsibilities.

Twelve Japanese voters marked their ballots for General MacArthur and one plumped for President Truman. If they weren't cranks, these voters evidently got their notions of democracy tangled up with the claims of international courtesy. At that, it wouldn't be a bad idea if General MacArthur could head a Japanese government for awhile. He would find the going hard, for the country is bankrupt, but the Japs would benefit and the neighbors could rest easy.

Looking Backward

From The Bulletin Files

1886: 60 Years Ago

A notable feature in the Indian supply contract is that of the four adjoining reserves in Peace Hills, Edmonton, Victoria and Onion Lake or Pitt, Peace Hills gets far and away the largest amount. Edmonton next, Victoria second, and Onion Lake with the largest number of Indians, the smallest. The quantity has not been graded according to loyalty or disloyalty for, although the disloyal Onion Lake Indians get little, the loyal Victoria Indians get little more, and far less than the questionably loyal Indians of Peace Hills.

The first session of the Northwest Board of Education resulted in the appointment of six Protestant and five Roman Catholic inspectors.

Spain: Breeding Ground of World War III—

Nazis In Spain

Six Thousand Scientists and Three Thousand Nazi Spies, Adequately Financed, Are Feverishly Building Up New Threat to World Peace Generously Supported by German Assistance

By Harold L. Weir

If the United Nations organization has any real regard for the peace of the world its officials will take off the velvet gloves of diplomacy and clean the Franco regime out of Spain without any more sickening casuistry about respecting the sovereignty of nations.

Almost the entire history of Spain has been a history of corruption and oppression.

It was Spain that put the New World in chains and exploited and robbed and tortured the natives of this hemisphere to the point of inserting a wedge of dislike between the Americas and Europe.

Harold L. Weir

It was Spain that carried conquistadorial imperialism to the utmost bounds of cruelty and greed.

It was Spain that gave birth to the Inquisition and maintained and encouraged it long after other countries had put their feet down upon its monstrous practices.

The Spanish people are good, decent and gentle people. They have been singularly unfortunate in their rulers—and never more so than today.

CONDITIONS in Spain in this year of grace are unspeakably disgraceful. Franco's jails and concentration camps are crowded with prisoners whose only crime is that they are republicans or that they criticized Franco or that they sought sanctuary from Hitler's reign of terror.

The fascist tyranny is ruthless in its work of regimenting the people and isolating them from the rest of the world by a rigid censorship.

No resident, native or foreign may pass from one town to another without a special pass. No Spaniard can even exist without belonging to and paying tribute to one of the many organizations of he fascist system.

In this agricultural country si ways rich in food resources, people are starving. Under Franco, the living cost has gone up 400 to 500 per cent while wages are only slightly above the pre-war level.

Near Madrid, people are still living in trenches dug during the civil war.

The average unskilled laborer gets around a dollar a day. Too pay is two dollars a day—which will buy a dozen eggs. The food rations are so small that the Spanish family must buy in the black market where bread is 20 cents for a quarter of a pound and meat begins at $1.20 a pound.

The majority of the Spanish people are in rags because they cannot afford clothes.

This is a country, remember, untouched by the ravages of the late world war.

IT MAY BE SAID, and rightly perhaps, that these conditions, brought about by the grossest maladministration and graft, are not the affair of the world. They do, however, give a picture of the inefficiency and rapacity and heartlessness of the Franco regime.

But there is another matter which is the business of the world and about which the world must take action.

In 1588, Spain threatened the peace of the world by virtue of the inquisitional fervor with which she set out to impose her religious views upon the rest of humanity. At that time, Britain saved Europe and America from Spanish rottenness by tearing the Great Armada to pieces.

In 1946, Spain threatens the peace of the world by giving refuge to actively plotting Nazis and by making herself the world centre of Nazi warmongering.

As an actual fact, the remnants of the Nazi machine of conquest have moved bodus bolus into Franco's protection and are carrying on operations which will definitely lead to another world war unless this hotbed of criminality is cleaned out.

Britain destroyed an ideological ly poisoned Spain in 1588 and saved humanity. The United Nations must repeat the performance in 1946 because humanity, from the same causes, stands again in equal jeopardy.

SPAIN TODAY is an armed camp in which at least 100,000 Hitler Germans have been given haven. Of these there are some 5,000 Nazi scientists and 3,000 espionage agents.

The scientists, under Dr. Hermann von Segerstady, a "brainwasher" specialist, are working feverishly to uncover the secret of controlled atomic energy.

The agents have at their disposal at least $200,000,000 in Nazi holdings.

Most Spanish industrial firms today are run and dominated by German managers and technicians. The two most important banks in Spain are Nazi German-owned. The entire chemical and pharmaceutical industry is controlled by I. G. Farben. Nazi Germans are deeply entrenched in Spanish trade and industry, mining and minerals and farms having to do with machinery and electrical equipment.

In other words, within Spain today there is building up the same plot against world peace as was built up in Germany between 1934 and 1938.

Franco's administration knows about this and encourages it and is an active part of the plot.

IT IS NOT enough then, not nearly enough, that the organization of peaceful world powers should content itself with gentle slaps on Franco's wrist.

It is not enough to issue protests, to recognize rival Spanish governments abroad or even to apply economic sanction.

What is needed is direct action to kick Franco and his gang out of Spain and to allow the abused Spanish people to instal a government of their own choice.

Most certainly the sovereignty of an independent country is a sacred thing.

But so is the life and freedom of a man. And yet society does not hesitate to deprive an individual of his freedom or even of his life if his activities are such as to menace the peace and security of his fellows.

The Franco administration is a criminal administration. It has forfeited by its plots and its schemes and its threat to humanity any right to be the custodian of national sovereignty.

Until France is seized and punished and until Spanish sovereignty is restored to the Spanish masses to which it rightfully belongs, the United Nations organization will be derelict in carrying out its first and most pressing duty in behalf of mankind.

Who Won The War?

OTTAWA JOURNAL

Premier George Drew has taken time out from such things as the Dominion-provincial conference to decry people who claim this or that nation "won the war".

It is well worth his while. For there is no greater futility, and little more evil, than in this business of claiming for some country that it alone, or mainly, licked Hitler.

No single nation won the war. Without Russia, Britain and the United States might have lost the war. Without Britain and the United States, Russia would have lost the war. Without Britain in the first place, the United States and Russia would have lost it.

Today in Europe

Soviet Plan Is Seen to Be to Remain Loyal to Organization in the Hope of Ultimately Building Up a Communist Majority

By Randolph Churchill
Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin

LONDON.—American public opinion in recent weeks has shown itself greatly disturbed by the possibility that Russia might walk out of the United Nations.

By a strong effort of imagination and will power, the people of the United States have abandoned their predominantly isolationist conceptions and decided to give a backing to the United Nations which they were never prepared to give to the League of Nations. There has been a tremendous publicity campaign throughout the United States to convince the American people that the UN is an organization which eventually can outlaw war and ensure peace, at any rate for many decades.

CHURCHILL

As a result, American opinion has been especially disturbed by Russia's intransigence in the Persian affair. And there have been widespread symptoms of anxiety over the possibility of Russia abandoning the new world organization.

These anxieties almost certainly are groundless. The Russians are evidently planning to do what is called in criminal circles an "inside job." They mean to stay in the UN and sabotage or capture the organization from the inside whilst in intriguing against it to the maximum from the outside.

AT THE MOMENT, the Russians are apt to find themselves in the minority, both in the Security Council and in the Assembly. But they do not despair of eventually packing the Assembly and the Council so that they will obtain a majority.

The activity of Communist parties throughout the world, all of which take orders from Moscow, has been strongly accentuated recently. Already in Poland, Russia has a faithful "stooge" who will undertatingly obey the order of the Kremlin. In addition, she has indirectly suitable governments in Roumania and Bulgaria which, when they are eventually admitted to the UN, can be relied upon to obey their master's voice with the same high fidelity which distinguishes the conduct of the Polish government.

Russia has by no means despaired of engulfing France, Italy and Greece in the abyss of Communism. If those three countries were to be swallowed up, it is hard to see how any other European country could fail to follow suit. It would then only be necessary for Russia to suborn a few votes in Latin America to have a majority inside the U.N.

THE FOREGOING observations, I have no doubt, will be deeply shocking to parlor pinks and fellow travellers everywhere. But no Russian who is allowed to read foreign newspapers will be shocked by what I have written. It is to these brutally realistic terms that politics are discussed inside the Kremlin. In Moscow there is no wishful thinking and no escapism. They utilize all the arts of propaganda to bemuse, baffle and divide the people of other countries.

But they do not make the mistake of believing their own propaganda. In the Western world on the other hand, peoples and governments not only say what they believe but also believe what they say. While they are all still lulling ourselves into a state of mental security based on pure illusion, the realists in the Kremlin are exploiting Western idealism to the utmost and, at the same time, are pressing forward in 50 countries with their long-term design for world mastery.

This'n That

The soprano seeking an engagement with ENSA, was finding the booking agent a trifle dubious.

"How many years in grand opera did you say?" he queried.

"Forty."

"My, my, you must have known Madame Butterfly as a mere caterpillar."

The Russian who announced to its owners that his government had taken over the Donaudampfschiffahrgesellschaft certainly said a mouthful.

He was a stout man, and his feet were large in proportion. He wore stout boots, too, with broad, sensibly-shaped toes. When he came into the shop to buy another pair he had some difficulty in getting what he wanted.

A dozen pairs were shown to him.

"No, no! Square toes—I must have square toes," he insisted.

"But, sir," replied the shop assistant, "everybody is wearing shoes with pointed toes. They are fashionable this season."

"Well," said the stout man, bravely, as he prepared to leave the shop. "I'm sorry to have troubled you. But, you see, I'm still wearing my last season's feet."

Human Nature

HAMILTON SPECTATOR

The victory which the Allies won at such a staggering cost in treasure and resources, sacrifice and blood, is being gravely menaced by too much gross "human nature" on the home fronts. Social discontent and strife have become so widespread that it is almost a mockery to speak of peace. One would think that the world would be so thankful for the deliverance from Axis conquest and slavery that every sane person would be fired by out a single objective—to help make this world worthy of the victory of such valiant manhood and womanhood won at so precious an expenditure.

Memorize, Then Act

TORONTO STAR

Every nation should memorize the opening words of the preamble of the United Nations' charter. Here they are: 'We, the peoples of the United Nations, determined to save succeeding generations from the scourge of war." That is a noble beginning in which the citizens of all nation members can take pride. With that resolve ever in mind, it should be possible for the nations that overthrew Nazi tyranny in the spirit of comradeship to proceed together to outlaw war and develop atomic energy as a means of abolishing poverty and want everywhere.

Wasted Bread

Editor, Bulletin: With regard to the many appeals for the saving of bread so that Europe's starving peoples may be fed, may I offer the following suggestion: Thousands of people now eat in restaurants. The first thing which appears on every table is a plate containing rolls or bread and a minute piece of butter. If those rolls or slices of bread were served only when requested, as is sugar, how many needed pounds of flour would be saved?

Nova Scotia Has Flag

Editor, Bulletin: I thought the enclosed article on Nova Scotia's flag might be of interest to readers of your editorial column. I am a Nova Scotian myself and feel that a great many people may not realize that particular province is the only one in the Dominion which can boast of having its own flag. In fact I have met quite a number of people who are quite ignorant about this historic province.

M. R.

Wetaskiwin, Alta.

Nova Scotia is the only province of Canada and the first colony of Great Britain to possess a flag of its own. The flag has a white background with St. Andrew's Cross (Saltier) dividing the field in four, while in the centre is the lion rampant in gold. It traces its origin to the charter of New Scotland, granted in 1621 to Sir William Alexander, created the Earl of Stirling, by King James, who was the sixth of his name in Scotland and the first in England.

The flag itself is derived from the royal coat of arms granted Nova Scotia in 1625 by King Charles I as a gift from the royal favour to the colony which had been founded as a complement to New England.

The ancient arms of Nova Scotia, in the changes following the union of the provinces of Canada in 1867, were officially supplemented for a time by a commonplace design of salmon and thistles, but they have been restored to their place as the proper place as the badge of the province and the basis of her flag.

Canada's Proper Title

Editor, Bulletin: The debate in the House on the Canada Bill was a revelation as showing the lack of knowledge of members of the name of our country. Of the twenty who spoke, nine asserted that the name was "Dominion of Canada" and not one of them was corrected . . . Section 3 of the British North America Act states, in part as to the name: "... the Provinces of Canada, Nova Scotia and New Brunswick shall form and be one dominion under the name of Canada" and on and after that day those three provinces shall form and be one dominion under the name of Canada." This section states very clearly that the name is "Canada" and not "Dominion of Canada." Mr. Drew's lapsus read section 3 but failed to call attention to the fact that the proper name is "Canada" only.

The word "Dominion" is a very old one and may be found in old official documents as referring to the possessions of the King. It was used as synonymous with "colony," "possession" and "plantation" and is used in that sense in the BNA Act as indicating that Canada was a possession of Britain as, in fact, she was at that time.

Because the country was named "Canada" the rather pretty story of Sir Leonard Tilley just suggested, after reading his Bible "He shall have dominion from sea to sea and from the river unto the end of the earth," that the country should be called "The Dominion of Canada" is shown to be false in the name chosen was "Canada."

New Zealand is the only one of the six kingdoms properly called "Dominion." Its name was changed to Dominion of New Zealand in 1907. Australia is a Commonwealth, South Africa is a Union, Ireland is Eire and Canada is Canada.

Getting There First

OTTAWA JOURNAL

Stories come back from foreign lands that Canadian-made shirts, or washing machines, or nylon stockings, or refrigerators can be purchased there and people at home wonder why these goods should go to foreign markets while Canadians go short. The fact is that other countries besides Canada are competing for the world markets now available and that Canada must get in on the ground floor, and keep up shipments, if she is to continue to keep her world trade. Britain makes no bones about keeping her own people short while she builds up foreign trade; Canada is likely doing the same thing but is not talking much about it.

Alberta District News Briefs

Gold Fever in Yukon Reaching High Pitch

WHITEHORSE.—Whitehorse is about to see another gold boom as tons of freight have been delivered and many more hundreds of tons are on the way in for distribution to many mining outfits.

The Carmacke area is a field of great activity, prospectors and miners using every means of transportation to get in on the ground floor for the season's work. Over 200 claims have already been staked and on view in Whitehorse is a sample of ore from this area that assays as high as $750 to the ton.

Burwash Placer mining company is forming a company to raise $50,000 for development of holdings on Burwash Creek. This company has been formed by business men.

Barker and Rae outfit on Shorty Creek is operating in full swing. This concern is considered one of the leading placer outfits in the north.

The Hudson's Bay Mining and Smelting is hauling diamond drilling equipment by dog team. The property is located 50 miles from Teslin and great activity is expected this season.

George Murray of Iron Creek has formed a company with Mr. McDougall of California as manager. Mr. McDougall has had a wide and varied experience in placer mining and is optimistic regarding future expansion. This company has recently purchased new machinery and the property is located just off the Haines road, on the Alaska highway, 80 miles from Whitehorse.

Walter McCallister, well-known prospector of this district, is at present busy forming a prospectors' association. Mr. McCallister has a number of claims that show promise in the Wheaton district, some 35 miles southeast of Whitehorse.

Carl Brydon, well-known local man, and a group of associates are leaving Whitehorse for their property on Florence Creek.

Pat Collison, well-known bush pilot, has purchased 45 head of horses for packing operations to various miners and outfits in the Carcross district and is looking forward to a busy season. Jean Jecko of Burwash Landing, 170 miles north of Whitehorse on the Alaska highway, also has a number of pack horses for the use of prospectors.

Brides Honored

CLIVE.—Recently-arrived British war brides, Mrs. R. Sissons, Mrs. R. Clarke and Mrs. B. Cousins, were honored at showers in the district last week. Members of the IOOF lodge held a farewell party recently for Mr. and Mrs. B. Kingston who are leaving the district for Macleod. Welcome home shower was given last week for Mrs. H. Webb, Scottish bride of a Clive resident. Cold storage lockers are being erected on lots adjoining the offices of J. H. Harrow. Project belongs to H. Evans and F. Wilkinson. Work has started on excavation of a basement for the new Baptist church parsonage. Board of Trade delegates to Calgary last week were successful in obtaining a farm machine agency in Clive.

Arrange Program

LAMONT.—Plans were made for the year's program when the Agricultural Services Board met here last week under chairmanship of Loule Stawniczy. H. J. Mather, supervisor of soil conservation and weed control for the provincial department of agriculture, and Henry Stelfox, also of the department, were present. The J. Letawsky farm has been sold to J. Gach of Edmonton who will move here soon. Mr. Letawsky has purchased the T. W. Birch residence in the village.

Fete Bride-To-Be

ENDIANG.—Christine Somerville was honored at a shower in the community hall Saturday, the function marking her forthcoming marriage to Dallas Schmidt. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Somerville, Endiang district farmer, while the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Schmidt of Ma-Me-O Beach.

Form Legion

EVANSBURG.—A Canadian Legion branch has been formed here with the following officers: president, Dr. A. F. Chisholm; vice-president, C. J. Bjornstad; secretary, E. O. H. Bjornstad. The community leagues has elected: president, C. J. Bjornstad; vice-president J. Colburne; secretary-treasurer G. N. Campbell. Young Peoples' club officers are: president, C. J. Bjornstad; vice-president, B. Hewins; secretary-treasurer F. McGowan. Farewell banquet was held here recently in honor of Mr. and Mrs. A. Wright, district old-timers who have since moved to British Columbia.

Skull Fractured

LACOMBE.—Jack Healing suffered a fractured skull last week when a breaking rope dropped a wooden slat, part of some hay-loading equipment, on his head, at the Experimental Station. Lord Lascelles chapter, IODE, will sponsor a drive for funds for cancer research. Containers for small coins will be placed in various business establishments in town. Betty Clark, 15-year-old resident of the Lacombe school dormitory and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Clark, died suddenly in the Lacombe hospital last week. Officers elected by the Lacombe Golf and Country Club last week were: president, J. Morrison; vice-president, H. S. Trame; secretary, G. T. Jackson.

To Remove POW's

WHITECOURT.—In reply to a recent demand that German prisoners-of-war be removed from this area as soon as possible, the local branch of the Canadian Legion has been assured that POW labor will cease here April 30. The demand followed the alleged layoff of a number of local workmen while the prisoner-labor continued. No serious spring floods are anticipated in this area with most of the moisture apparently soaking into the ground.

Nelson Elected

ELK POINT.—Curling club has elected the following officers: honorary president, Dr. F. G. Miller; honorary vice-president, R. C. Hamer; president, D. C. Nelson; vice-president, R. E. Beattie; secretary-treasurer, J. V. Jacobson. Presentation of the MacDonald-Graham trophy and other prizes has been made to Dr. Miller's rink, winner of the greatest number of games in proportion to losses.

Mill Rate Upped

WESTLOCK.—The Board of Trade held its first dinner meeting since its recent re-organization when more than 50 businessmen and farmers heard an address by J. A. Christiansen of Edmonton, Council of the Westlock MD has upped the mill rate from 15 to 17 mills, earmarking the increased revenue for road works. The council has named A. Zaczkowski as reeve. Assessment of the village is nearly complete, according to C. Roulston, village clerk, who said the assessment is based on 1936 cost figures and will be used in computing the 1946 tax levy. The Canadian Legion next week will auction articles donated by local residents in aid of the Memorial Hall fund. Former Reeve M. Dusseault was presented with a chest of silver by members of the municipal council last week.

Fashion Show

GRANDE PRAIRIE.—A large crowd attended a fashion show presented here by the Grande Prairie Stagette Club, when outstanding features included a wedding dress and a bridesmaid gown, modelled by Laverne Best and Margaret Spicer. Musical entertainment was provided by Mrs. T. Gilchrist, Miss C. Hunter and Mrs. J. Dalen. Tea was poured by Mrs. H. E. Irwin and refreshments were under supervision of Miss M. O'Connell. Teen Town organization held a combination meeting and dance last week when members of the sponsorship committee were introduced to the teen-agers. On the committee are local businessmen and other interested adults.

Materials Arrive

FORT ASSINIBOINE.—Materials have arrived and preparations are being made for the construction of a new ferry to operate across the Athabasca River at this point. R. Olson and G. Mansoff have been appointed to operate the ferry for the summer. Plans were made for an active sports season when members of the baseball club held the first meeting of 1946. Gordon McArthur is manager of the Club. Ed Renton and son have constructed a residence here prior to opening an oil station. Miss K. Macdonald, district public health nurse, is planning a visit to local schools for health inspection and immunization of the children. Mrs W. J. C. Thomson has been informed of the marriage of her nephew, John, to a Calgary girl. Several cases of chickenpox have broken out in this area.

Back From Greece, Brother and Sister Tell of Starvation

True stories of starving Greece are being told in Sudbury, Ont., by George Catelanis, 13, and his sister Maria, 10. They came to Canada from Greece just recently after five years of misery. George didn't taste bread for nine months. Greece is still in a turmoil with little food and much unrest. General election was held in the country March 31 with a rightist victory.

"Meet my neighbour... my rainy-day expert"

"Pretty swanky, eh?" said Henry's neighbour, eyeing the new sunroom. "How come? Did you win some money at the races?"

"Meet my neighbour . . . my rainy-day expert," said Henry. "As my life insurance man, he helped me finance this new sunroom fifteen years ago."

"Fifteen years ago!" exclaimed the builder, glancing from one to the other.

"Years ago he gave me a new slant on life insurance — 'Provide for the rainy days . . . then you can enjoy the sunshine.' So that's the way I budget. My life insurance premiums are a first call on my income. That means I don't have to worry about Kitty and the kids. Then I figure current expenses, right down to so much a week for movies and ice cream cones. And then! . . . whatever I can bank over and above that is velvet. When it mounts up, Kitty gets a new gadget for the kitchen, or we smarten up the house. This new sunroom comes out of our velvet."

There is nothing like life insurance to give a man peace of mind. He can enjoy spending if he is sure that the future of his loved ones is secure. Everyone wants independence and protection for his family . . . and when that is insured, a man can indulge his whims.

Near you, wherever you are, is a neighbour in the life insurance business. Ask him for advice in planning your future. It is good citizenship to own life insurance.

America's Card Authority

Waldemar Von Zedtwitz and I have often discussed the fine defensive skill of the western players whom we encountered on our trip to the Pacific Coast in 1941. We know that the delegation of eastern players who will invade the west on May 29 will find good competition.

One of the outstanding players in San Francisco is Karl Ackerman a vice president of the American Contract Bridge League. Ackerman held the East cards in today's hand, and it was not difficult for him to read his partner's opening lead as a singleton.

Probably most players would have returned a club for West to ruff, but then the only other trick they could have taken would have been the ace of trumps.

After winning the first trick with the ace of clubs, Ackerman decided to return a spade. Declarer went up with the ace and led a trump which Ackerman won with the ace. Now he led a club for West to ruff, and West then cashed the king of spades, defeating the contract.

The Bulletin's SPORT SHOW by Hal Dean

SPORTS EDITOR

THE Ducey-Mullen-Beatty baseball triumvirate reports good progress being made in connection with the Edmonton league and pending solution of the equipment problem, workouts will commence during the coming week-end.

Excepting for one point which is to be discussed further with the commissioners today; terms of the agreement with the city concerning the operation of Renfrew Park have been approved.

The early start in training is necessary as the opening of the season is only about a month away and that entire period will be little enough to get the city members of the teams in condition. The players being brought in already have had the advantage of workouts extending over several weeks.

PRELIMINARY SURVEY of the material situation so far as Edmonton itself is concerned, shows 15 players resident in the city whom it is hoped will qualify.

Contact has been established with the cream of baseball talent in Western Canada, and the Seattle club of the Pacific Coast League and New York Yankees will supply the balance of players required for the three teams.

Assigning of players to various farm clubs of the Rainiers and Yankees will commence shortly and the Edmonton baseball promoters anticipate definite information as to personnel being allotted to this circuit within the very near future.

HARNESS RACING, more or less in the dog house for several years, is essaying a strong comeback this season, with the meet at Santa Anita Park starting today and lasting until May 18, the biggest single event in the bid to regain public favor.

The Grand Circuit has been in existence for more than 75 years, but the trotters and pacers enjoyed their greatest popularity about the turn of the century. The Western Harness Racing Association was organized last year and the Santa Anita meeting represents the supreme effort of this body. A total of $400,000 in prize money is being offered for the 25 days.

PRACTICE OF RUNNING starts which led to so many tiresome and false get-aways and recalls, no doubt has had much to do with the apathy of the public toward sulky racing. The mobile gate, which in preliminary tests has worked out well, was designed to overcome this handicap and will be used at Santa Anita.

The gate runs along the front of the horses, the locomotion being provided by motors which lift the gate at the starting line as the horses get away.

ANOTHER INNOVATION has been the elimination of the heat system. There is to be no more of the best two-out-of-three or three-out-of-five, every heat being a complete race and the horsemen will be paid off where their horses finish.

Incidentally, it was this heat system which made harness racing attractive to B circuit members of the Western Canada Fairs' Association, the heats affording more races at a smaller outlay. Consequently several of the Class B fair boards have retained sulky racing as part of their annual program, and with evident success.

Easterners Feel Better

Winnipeg Hopes Still High Despite Loss to Toronto

By FRED KERNER

TORONTO, April 16.—(CP)—"I sure feel a lot better after that!" Amid the familiar bedlam of a hockey dressing room after hard-earned victory, netminder Pat Boehmer gasped the words as he shrugged off his heavy gear last night following a 5-3 triumph by Toronto St. Michael's College Majors in the second game of the Canadian junior championship series.

"For the first five minutes I wasn't quite sure what was going to happen," said the grinning but exhausted Boehmer, on the losing end Saturday in the first game of the best-of-seven Memorial Cup finals when Winnipeg Monarchs took a 3-2 triumph.

Warding off well-wishers, coach Jim Primeau walked into the tiny room still wearing the same wide grin which wreathed his features earlier in the evening.

"THAT'S THE WAY I like to see them play hockey," he shouted above the din. Then Primeau made a special announcement—the team will enjoy a two-day rest before Wednesday's third game. No school for the players, just relaxation and a short workout as a reward for working hard—harder than you've worked all season."

Around a corner in the Winnipeg dressing room, coach Walter Monson refused to let his spirits sag.

"That was the best thing that could have happened to them," he said. "They learned just how they've got to play the rest of this series if they want to win. The checking is hard and the plays have to be tight, or else they're worthless."

Monson said the officiating could have been "a little more strict, but if that's the way we're going to play, that's the way we'll play."

MEANWHILE THREE Winnipeg players prepared to start writing examinations here for the University of Manitoba. Hy Beatty is to start exams in commerce and finance, Al Buchanan in science and defenceman Cam Millar in arts.

The scrappiest playmaker on the team, Don (Red) McRae, finished his engineering papers Monday and Clint Albright writes his last examination in the same faculty Wednesday.

Exams or no exams, Monson isn't worried.

"That's probably the best hockey St. Mike's have ever played," he said. "There's a good chance they won't do it again."

WITH MORTONS.—A member of the Edmonton Pats last season when they lost out to Vancouver Hedlunds in the western Canada junior girls' basketball final, Gladys Limming (above) will be performing for the Edmonton Mortons Saturday night when they meet those same Hedlunds in the first of a three-game series at Westglen gym. This pair is in the first round of the western playdowns.

Majors Expect Record Crowds

NEW YORK, April 16.—(AP)—The umpire's imperishable bray "Play ball", will echo again across eight big league ball parks today, and several hundred sun-tanned, lightly-wound athletes will begin the struggle that promises to write new pages in the baseball record books.

Their lineups again swollen with the great stars who helped fight the war, the 16 clubs that make up the American and National leagues fully expect to play to record attendances, and they probably will. Never before have the fans swarmed out to the parks in such numbers for the pre-season exhibitions.

An overflow throng of 30,000 is expected to watch President Truman southpaw the first ball at Washington, where the Senators open against the Boston Red Sox and Detroit predicts a turnout of 50,000 at Briggs Stadium, where the Tigers' 1945 world series pitching star, Hal Newhouser, opposes Nelson Potter of the St. Louis Browns. The New York Giants look for 40,000 to see them play the Phillies at the Polo Grounds.

St. Mike's Evens Series With Monarchs

OHA Champs Reply With 5-3 Victory

By ALLAN NICKLESON

TORONTO, April 16.—(CP)—St. Michael's College of Toronto, roaring back with all their vaunted power, walloped Winnipeg Monarchs 5-3 Monday night and evened the Canadian junior hockey championship series at one game each. Monarchs won the opener of the best-of-seven set here Saturday.

Beating the bigger Monarchs at their own game—persistent back-checking and blinding speed—the Collegians aped to a 2-1 lead in the opening period, led 4-1 at the end of the second, and staved off a third-period Monarch rally that produced two goals, by scoring the clincher with 59 seconds to play.

A BREAKAWAY produced the final goal when Saints, leading 4-3, were being hard-pressed. Sixteen-year-old Fleming Mackell grabbed the puck in his own area, battled through and let go a shot that big Jack Gibson kicked out. Tod Sloan slapped the rebound past the falling Monarch netminder.

A crowd of 14,263 that packed Maple Leaf Gardens gave every goal a terrific ovation but saved most of their energy for the thrill-soaked last period when Monarchs scored twice in a terrific rally.

Third game of the series will be here Wednesday and the fourth Saturday.

Sloan, who won the Ontario Hockey Association scoring championship this season, led the Saints with two goals and an assist. Mackell had one goal and two assists. Johnny Blute and Bob Paul each scored one.

Centre George Robertson, playing a terrific driving game, led Monarchs with a goal and two assists. Harry Taylor and Eddie Marchant, playing for the first time in this series, added the others.

ST. MIKE'S, taking a leaf from the Monarch strategy book, never stopped checking and gave one of their greatest displays of the season. They bunged at every opportunity and generally made the path to the goal a tortuous one.

Best of the Monarchs were Don (Red) McRae and Taylor, who never stopped trying and drew applause time after time for their fighting gameness. McRae, on one occasion, spent four solid minutes in action and kept the puck in the Toronto end most of that time in a thrilling, one-man display.

LINEUPS

Monarchs—Gibson, May, Hockey, Albright, Beatty, Buchanan. Subs: McRae, Tindall, Taylor, Robertson, Marchant, Fashoway, Chitty (sub goalie).

St. Michael's—Boehmer, Powers, McLean, Sandford, Paul, Mackell. Subs: Kelly, Blute, McKay, Sloan, Costello, Harrison, Decourcy (sub goalie).

Referees—Stan Pratt, Ottawa; Harold Gerrard, Port Arthur.

SUMMARY

First period—1, St. Michael's, Blute (Kelly, McKay), 9:06; 2, St. Michael's, Paul (Mackell, Sandford), 11:33; 3, Monarchs, Taylor (Robertson), 13:35. Penalties: Paul, Fashoway.

Second period—4, St. Michael's, Mackell (Sloan, Harrison), 17:11; 5, St. Michael's, Sloan (Costello), 19:06. No penalties.

Third period—6, Monarchs, Marchant (Robertson), 9:05; 7, Monarchs, Robertson (Taylor, McRae), 13:53; 8, St. Michael's, Sloan (Mackell), 19:01. No penalties.

Canucks Run Up 9-1 Count Against Boston Olympics

VANCOUVER, B.C., April 16.—(CP)—Vancouver Canucks swamped the Boston Olympics under 'a 9-1 score here Monday night to even the best - of - seven United States senior amateur hockey championship series at one win apiece. Boston won the first game 9 to 6 last Friday night.

Third game will be played here Wednesday.

Andy Clovechuk, speedy winger for Vancouver, led his team to victory with five goals and assisted in two others. Bill Carse, with two, Bernie Bathgate and Mels Nelsen completed the scoring. Paul Monty scored the lone Boston tally early in the first period.

CANUCKS SET UP a stonewall defence that kept the Olympics at a distance throughout the match. Boston got only 10 shots on goal in the 60 minutes of play, compared to 28 direct drives at Harvey Bennett, Boston custodian, by Vancouver.

Led by Clovechuk, who netted twice within the first six minutes of the game, Vancouver held command of play from start to finish. Monty's lone tally came when he took a pass from Pentilland and beat Ed McAneeley cleanly. Bathgate made the count 3 to 1 in favor of Vancouver at the end of the first period.

CLOVECHUK AND CARSE found the mark in the second and again at the start of the third. Clovechuk, leading scorer in the Pacific Coast Hockey League this season started the scoring parade when he beat Bennett with a sizzling shot after a three-way passing attack with Bathgate and Ab McDougall.

LINEUPS

Boston—Bennett; Martin, Scherzel; Ronty; Barry, Lund. Subs—Yourkewitz, Schnurr, Marquess, Flamond, Delmonte, Desbiens.

Vancouver—McAneeley; Smith, Millman, Bathgate; Clovechuk, Pringle. Subs—Neilsen, McDougall, Carse, Kreiler.

Referees—Bill Knott, Seattle. Linesman, Merrick Cranstoun, New Westminster.

SUMMARY

First period—1, Vancouver, Clovechuk 1:37; 2, Vancouver, Clovechuk (Bathgate) 3:39; 3, Boston, Ronty (Lund) 6:01; 4, Vancouver, Bathgate (Clovechuk, Pringle) 16:03. Penalties—Flamond, Millman.

Second period—5, Vancouver, Clovechuk (Pringle, Bathgate) 1:32; 6, Vancouver, Carse (Clovechuk) 9:45. Penalties—Carse, Yourkewitz, Scherzel.

Third period—7, Vancouver, Clovechuk (Bathgate, McDougall) 3:27; 8, Vancouver, Carse (McDougall) 8:32; 9, Vancouver, Clovechuk (Pringle) 12:33; 10, Vancouver, Neilsen (Carse, Kreiler) 15:09. Penalties—Flamond, Yourkewitz (major), Barry, Kreiler.

Regina Puck Fans Form Early Lineup

REGINA, April 16—(CP)—An estimated 2,000 people were lined up for more than a block in front of Regina's city hall last night—and not to pay their taxes. They were seeking Allan Cup hockey tickets.

The lineup began early in the afternoon although sale of tickets for the first game of the best-of-seven Cup finals between Hamilton Tigers and Calgary Stampeders to be played here April 18 was not to begin until 8 p.m.

Young and old, they sat on camp stools, leaned on each other and just stood to hold a seat in Regina's 5,000-seat Queen City Gardens.

Garden officials expect a sellout long before game night—including standing room—and wish they had 5,000 more tickets to offer.

Legion Workout

North Side Legion soccer team will hold a workout at Monarch gym on Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock. An invitation is extended to all wishing to join the club.

Mortons Practice

Mortons fastball team will hold a practice at Eastwood school gym on Thursday night at 8 o'clock.

ONE OF TRIO.—Capt. John Beatty is one of the trio, the other members of which are John Ducey and Riley Mullen, interested in the organizing of the semi-pro baseball league which will operate in Edmonton during the coming season.

Interscholastic Meet Here

Track and Field Program For Summer is Outlined

The track and field program for the coming summer is, at present, shaping up as one of the best since pre-war days.

In a bulletin issued recently by the Edmonton Track and Field Committee, definite dates and probable dates for most divisions have been announced. Likely included will be the Highland Games, usually held on May 24.

The junior men's provincial championships will be held at Calgary on August 10 in conjunction with the Caledonian Games Association of that city, but the Alberta interscholastic titles will be run off here, possibly on Tuesday of Exhibition week at Clarke Stadium.

The Canadian AAU senior men's championship will be staged at Hamilton, Ontario on July 6th.

The committee expects announcements soon regarding the Western meet at Vancouver; Alberta senior men's and womens', Dominion women's meet; Dominion junior AAU championships and also any Saskatchewan open meets.

Edmonton tracksters are expected to open training periods at Clarke Stadium on Monday, April 29.

Quality First! Dittrich MEN'S SHOP "Smart Wear for Smart Men"

TO DO THIS is of vital importance to you for the C.C.M. trade mark indicates the value and service you will receive from the bicycle you buy.

If you follow the lead of 8 out of 10 cyclists, you will be very sure that the bicycle you buy bears the C.C.M. trade mark.

There are many many reasons why Canadians prefer this made-in-Canada bicycle — here are four of them:

1. C.C.M. Bicycles have been completely built in Canada for nearly 50 years..which means there is a wealth of experience in the "know how" of bicycle building which spells long years of trouble-free cycling to the lucky owner of a C.C.M.
2. The three fast-moving parts of a C.C.M. Bicycle—the front wheel hub, the crank and sprocket assembly and the rear wheel hub including the coaster brake, are each made from special steels heat treated and finished to within a thousandth of an inch. It is because a C.C.M. is micro-bilt in this way that it is so easy to pedal and runs so smoothly.
3. C.C.M. Bicycles are finished with several baked-on coats of lustrous, weatherproof enamel.
4. The owner of a C.C.M. Bicycle can obtain service, parts, accessories and a high trade-in value for his C.C.M. from among the 2,500 G.C.M. dealers throughout Canada.

So — when you buy a bicycle for yourself or as a gift to another, be very sure it bears the C.C.M. trade mark.

C.C.M. HANGER
The parts of this most important section of a C.C.M. bicycle are machined, hardened and finished with extreme accuracy so that you may get the most out of your pedalling action.

C.C.M. STRONG FRONT HUB
Built of hardened steel with stout axle and accurately machined and hardened ball-races to give years of smooth and easy running.

C.C.M. COASTER BRAKE
An improved brake by C.C.M., faster in forward clutch-action, more powerful in its smooth, quick stop than any of its predecessors. Built of super-strong, hardened steels to meet the needs of today's cyclists.

Today's Sport Parade

NEW YORK, April 16—(BUP)—Bruce Woodcock, the British heavyweight champion, is a "sissy."

You can take that from a little, red-moustachioed long-distance runner named Ken Bailey. The pick-'em-up and lay-'em-down Briton, who came here from England to run in Boston's Patriot Day Marathon—commemorating the start of our freedom from Britain—insists on that.

"He wouldn't run a few miles in Newfoundland with me this morning," Baily complained.

THAT THE SNOW was only a few feet deep didn't bother the man from Bournemouth. And he claimed that he wasn't prejudiced because Woodcock will battle another Bournemouthian when he returns to England.

It was all part of a rather long evening at Laguardia airport where a baker's dozen of New York sportswriters gathered to welcome the curly-haired British prize fighter. It being the modern adaption of the old ship-meeting days, the boys founded a new organization: "The LaGuardia Field knob-hole gang." In the cold, dank night, as the big silver cigar called a Lockheed Constellation pulled into the field, the lads found themselves outside the fence. So it was up and over.

FIRST OFF the plane was a smart-looking brunette and a reporter remarked: "hubba, hubba." To which she replied: "Thank you."

Of the 30 passengers aboard, Woodcock made the last exit, even if he was the first European champion to make a trans-oceanic flight.

"You can't touch him until he gets through the customs," a guard warned.

"Let Mauriello do that," piped up an observer, referring to "Bruce's American debut at Madison Square Garden May 13 against Tami Mauriello.

At that, there was quite a crowd on hand. If Uncle Mike Jacobs, that benign promoter who brought Woodcock here, had known of the interest he would have charged $20 tops close to the waiting rail. As it was, everybody got in for a slight case of pneumonia.

AFTER A LONG TRIP through the customs, Woodcock stepped into a private room for a going over by the newspaper boys. There it was a rapid fire of "hey Bruce" . . . and "oh, Bruce" . . . or "say, Bruce?"

"Blimey," Woodcock said, "English sportswriters always call me 'Mr. Woodcock'."

The curly-haired boy from England got none of that, despite his amazement. And, under the barrage of questions, he admitted that he'd like to fight both Joe Louis and Billy Conn.

"I suppose I could stand up with him," he said modestly, referring to Louis.

He also confirmed that he's engaged, girls. She's a little lass named Nora Speight, a Doncaster dressmaker, and she wants a salt bathing suit when Bruce comes home.

Nylons?

"They tell me you have queues over here, too," Woodcock answered.

"Well, I'm fed up with queuing up."

So it looks as if, like our own girls, Nora will get no nylons.

Roller Hockey This Week-End

Calgary's roller hockey team and the Edmonton Hawks will play a two-game total-goal series here this week-end for the inter-city championship and possession of the Hudson's Bay Company trophy.

The first of the series will be Friday at 2:30 p.m. and the second on Sunday at 1 p.m., both games at the Silver Glade.

Leo LeClair is coach of the Edmonton team, the members of which are: goal, Bill McCartney; defence, Frank McNeill, Allan Sinclair, Bob Grant, Dick Pettinger; forwards, Allan Stevenson, Don Allen, Ray Waters, Glen Bryant.

New Golf Date July 29-Aug. 3

TORONTO, April 16.—(CP) The Canadian amateur golf championships, previously set for Aug. 5-10 at the Mayfair Club, Edmonton, will be played July 29 to Aug. 3 over the same course, the Royal Canadian Golf Association announced Monday.

J. A. Fuller of Montreal, association president, said the change was made to permit participation by amateurs in the Canadian Professional Golfers' Association $10,000 open, at Winnipeg Aug. 8-11.

Tag Wrestling Empire Thursday

Something new in the way of wrestling entertainment will be offered by Promoter Tommy Tasker at the Empire theatre Thursday, April 18th. Tag wrestling is about to make it's debut to Edmonton.

In this feature attraction, Texas Jim Wright and Chief Thunderbird will team up to take on Jack Clayborne, the jumping negro sensation from Chicago and Pierre DeGlane of Montreal.

IN TAG WRESTLING, a man from each team enters the ring while the partners remain outside the ropes, as soon as one member of the team in the ring, tires, he tags his partner on the outside, whose job it is to take over. However, as can be appreciated it frequently happens that the boys get their signals mixed and you'll find both men of a team in the ring at the same time.

Two good preliminaries have been arranged by Promoter Tasker. In one bout, Louis Demers of Legal will tangle with Emil Van Velzen, and in the other match, Leo Magril will trade holds with Steve Jossul.

THE THIRD MAN in the ring will be one who will be demanding law and order and who can back up his demands. Tommy Tasker has been successful in securing the services of Sgt. Gordon Evans for this week's card. Evans, a member of the Canadian Army Provost Corps, was formerly light-heavyweight champion of Alberta. He was known as Rough House Evans after turning to professional wrestling.

Sgt. Evans spent six years overseas, and wrestling fans can expect plenty of action when he endeavors to curb the riot-inciting tactics of Jim Wright.

Practices Set Kingsway Park

Practice schedule for this week at Kingsway is as follows:

Wednesday, April 17—Central Intermediates, 8 p.m.

Thursday, April 18—Combines, 6 p.m.

Friday, April 19—Walk-Rites, 3 p.m.

Sunday, April 21—Dainty Cakes, 10-12 a.m.; Moose, 1-3 p.m.; Swifts, 3-5 p.m.

Coaches of Medico Welders senior team and South Side and Maple Leaf junior clubs are asked to get in touch with Bernard Fraser, phone 26263 in regards to practice time at Kingsway.

Australia Rates Bromwich No. 1

SYDNEY, Australia, April 16—(CP)—John Bromwich, national tennis champion, yesterday was rated as the No. 1 player of Australia by the national association. It virtually assures his selection as one member of the Australian Davis Cup team which will defend the trophy later this year.

After 17 Seasons

Pats Announce Withdrawal From City Fastball Circuit

One of Edmonton's well-known girls' athletic organizations has withdrawn after 17 successive years of operation. The aggregation known throughout Western Canada as the "Edmonton Pats" has decided not to operate this year in local fastball circles.

Clare Hollingsworth, veteran manager of the squad, announced last night that of the 16 players who played for the 1945 team, he has only four left for this season, and that pressure of other duties makes it necessary to cancel the Army and Navy entry in the Kingsway fastball loop.

The unusually large "turnover" of players has proven the undoing of the club. Out of the league-ten top batters last year, six were members of the Pats. All six of these sluggers are gone. Four pitchers and a catcher are missing, and the keystone double-play duo transferred to another club.

LUCELLA MACLEAN, possibly the province's best catcher last season, is going to play in the Chicago National Pro League; Janet Anderson, star pitcher on the '45 squad is to hurl in the Glamour League; Winnie Reid is also going to play in Chicago; Mary Verenka Jensen now lives in Omaha, Nebraska; Blanche McCallum and Eilean Hatch now live in Winnipeg; Jean Stewart has retired and Ruth Brault, Thora Stewart, Ina Ward and Dot MacLean then requested transfers. Each of these four parted company with their former club only after making it plain that they had no grievance with the Pats' management or sponsor. But other fields apparently appeared "greener".

The four "faithfuls" to remain with the Pats were Audrey Wellman, Jean Vanderheide, Mary Payliuk and Ruby Ford. With the announcement by the Pats' manager, comes the end of the unbroken 17 years of competitive play in Edmonton, Alberta and western Canada. Five provincial titles and as many city championships have decorated the Pats' record in that space of time, not to mention the reputation gained for having players of unquestioned character and deportment wherever the team has played.

In reminiscing over the years, Manager Hollingsworth reviewed the personnel of the first Pats club: Martha Undershultz, Rose Stupor, Annie Turner, Hilda Schwindt, Madge Newman, Evelyn Grasde, Therese Marty, Edith Power, Kathleen Keeler, Ruth Schwindt.

Later editions of the team included: Edith Christian, Vicki Ewasiuk, Etta Dann, Sophie Brown, Edna and Ethel Reilly, Winnie Gallen, Noel MacDonald, Bertha Sibour, Babe Daniel, Helen and Lils Northup, Eileen Quilley, Maxine Caldwell, Gladys and Minnie Wilson, Delia Griffin, Lavina Allard, Cal Holmgren, Kay Heim, Prudy Harris, Betty Ross, Dora Martin, Ruth Hedges, Dell Davidson, Peanuts Martin, Pat Vint, Babe Ewasiuk, Babe Ferby, Mary Thwaites, Evelyn Woods, Helen McQuade, Ruby Williams, Margaret Keller, Jerry Martin, Beryl Westbrook, Jean Ward Stewart, Kelly MacDonald, Kay Martin, June Cassgrove, Bubbles Ferrier, Dorothy Samis, Helen Nicol, Mabel Gerdes, Helen Dupont, Phoebe Kell, Jean Daimault, Peggy Edwards, Connie Strachan, Frances Morano, Jean Lawson, Babe Williams, Esther Ward, Elsie Barlow, Val Sneizek, Alice Herin, Theresa Lallear, Merrie Mercer, Mary Hegarty, Joan Cragg, Jennie O'Donnell, Mildred Little, Peggy Little, Nadine Hatch, Barbara Holowachuk, Rena Fraser, Dorothy Ellis, Marjorie Oslund, Kay Quilley, Dorothy Grabow, Teddy Howey, Laurette Brault, Ev. Lane, Helen Cairns, Thora Stewart, Ruth Brault, Dot MacLean, Janet Anderson, Mary Verenka, Jean Stewart, Audrey Wellman, Ina Ward, Blanche McCallum, Eileen Hatch, Dorothea Slevinsky, Mary Pawliuk, Ruby Ford, Peggy Edwards, Lucella MacLean, Phyllis Cox, Gen Spargo, and many others.

AND THE ALL-STAR Pats team would be: Catchers: Kay Heim and Lucella MacLean; pitchers: Helen Nicol, Jean Stewart, Beryl Westbrook and Janet Anderson; first base: Sophie Brown; second base: Vicki Ewasiuk; short stop: Babe Daniel; third base: Jerry Martin; left field: Della Griffin; centre field: June Cassgrove; right field: Dell Davidson; short field: Laurette Brault.

Clare Hollingsworth does not intend to drop all contact with fastball activity and will probably find himself sitting in some other capacity around the Kingsway fastball park. But the Pats are now in the history books.

CANADIAN SPORTSHOTS

By DAVE McKAY

HALIFAX, April 16 — (CP) — There are some who say Maritime basketball can never hope to compete in the same class with central and western Canadian products, and the trouncing handed to HM CS Stadacona of Halifax by Assumption College goes far in support of such a view.

The Windsor, Ont., collegians displayed the best brand of ball seen on Maritime courts for years, taking two straight games by wide margins. And the Stadacona team contained little home talent. So decisive was the first game that Halifax columnists urged the fans to go and see how the game is played at its best.

ON THE OTHER hand, New Brunswick came through with the national juvenile crown, edging St. Catharines' youngsters and beating Halifax. And a Saint John team sought a pass to the Dominion intermediate finals as they teed off with Ottawa University last night.

Wonder why amateur baseball Dominion titles are not on the block with other sports? The recent championships are fought to the bitter end, and there the matter is dropped, without the reasons knowing how they stack up against each other.

TWO RIVAL COACHES in the Maritime hockey picture were both amputees of the Italian campaign. Charlie Hogan, mentor of the championship Summerside, P.E.I., juvenile, lost an arm at Ortona, while with the Cape Breton Highlanders, Alex Nicholson of the Sydney shipyards, another juvenile outfit, lost a leg near the same spot, with the Seaforth Highlanders.

It seems as if billiard playing and longevity go hand in hand. Joe Valentine, Glace Bay billiard league veteran, recently passed his 79th milestone. The old country native once formed part of a team which went undefeated for 14 years, and is rated one of the oldest sportsmen in Cape Breton.

Bobanet Surprises In Hartford 'Cap

HAVRE DE GRACE, Md., April 16.—(AP)—Equalling the stake record for six furlongs, Bobanet, from the Bobanet stable of R. Bruce Livle, blazed to a 1½-length victory over favored Armed Monday in the 33rd running of the Hartford Handicap.

The crowd of about 16,000 got a shock as the Calumet Farm ace got away slowly. Although he made up ground fast in the stretch, Armed couldn't close the gap on Bobanet under jockey Donnie Pac gett. Bobanet was timed in 1:11⅖ matching the mark set by Billy Kelly in 1921 and equalled in 1931 by Balko.

Bobanet, four-year-old son of Count-Flying Pennant, ran out of the money at Bowie two weeks ago in his only other start of the year. His Baltimore owner collected $6,250 in the Hartford, and Bobanet's backers cashed in $26.30, $5.40, and $4 for $2.

Armed still is expected to reign the favorite in Saturday's 1-16-mile Philadelphia handicap, which carries a $20,000 purse.

Cards Are Unanimous Choice Cop National League Flag

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK, April 16—(AP)—Six American League managers think their clubs have a chance to win the flag, but National League pilots are in unanimous agreement that the star-studded St. Louis Cardinals is "the team to beat," their pre-opening day comments for The Associated Press have revealed.

Billy Southworth of Boston Braves, former Redbird skipper, flatly predicted that Cardinals will win the National League pennant. St. Louis' Eddie Dyer says his team will have a good chance to win "if we are more than five games from first place by July 4." Even Connie Mack, Philadelphia Athletics' manager in the rival American League, went out of his way to pick the Cards to cop the bunting.

IN SHARP CONTRAST to the National League managerial brethren, six of the American League skippers, Steve O'Neill of Detroit, Joe Cronin, Boston; Ossie Bluege, Washington; Joe McCarthy, New York; Lou Boudreau, Cleveland and Luke Sewell, St. Louis; declared they fully expect to see their teams in the thick of the pennant fight.

None of the sextet ventured to name his team as the No. 1 outfit, but neither did they yield an inch to other clubs. Perhaps the most enthusiastic statements were made by O'Neill of the world champion Tigers and Sewell of the 1944 pennant winning Browns.

"AS DEFENDING champions we certainly must rate as the team to beat in the American League," O'Neill said. "We have good pitching, good catching, a strong outfield and the infield will be okay. We expect the greatest competition from New York, Boston and Cleveland, with Washington as the dark horse."

Said Sewell: "Our club this year is 40 per cent better than our '44 champions and is the best team I have had since I took charge in 1941. I'm satisfied the Browns will be in the battle for the pennant."

Stratford Senior Signed by Toronto

TORONTO, April 16—(CP)—The Globe and Mail in a sports page story Monday that Toronto Maple Leafs Saturday signed Howie Meeker of Stratford, who played for Stratford in the OHA Senior A race in the season just past. A right-hander, he was the club's leading scorer.

Meeker, 24, is an army veteran who was wounded while training in England. He served also in France, Holland and Germany. Before enlistment he played for Stratford junior teams.

Says Klan Active

LONDON, April 16.—(CP)—Peter Orlov, a Moscow radio commentator, said Monday, Ku Klux Klan had resumed its "injurious activities" in the United States. "To a certain extent," he said, "the Ku Klux Klan was an offshoot and forerunner of Italian Fascism and German Nazism."

Cards and Yankees Favored Win Flags

NEW YORK, April 16.—(AP)—In the opinion of 119 baseball writers, St. Louis is a cinch to win the National League pennant and New York Yankees should outscramble Detroit and Boston for the American League flag.

Eddie Dyer's Red Birds were an overwhelming choice with the typewriter sluggers participating in the annual Associated Press poll. No less than 115 votes, roughly 97 per cent of all ballots cast, tabbed St. Louis for first place with Max Lanier, Howie Pollet, Johnny Beazley, Terry Moore, Enos Slaughter and Stan Musial back in action.

The British Medical Register contains the names of 55,291 doctors.

Dominoes Ready Take on Saskatoon

SASKATOON, April 16.—(CP)—Fresh from victory over Raymond Union Jacks, Alberta basketball champions, Victoria Dominoes will take on Saskatoon Toilers, Saskatchewan titleholders, in a two-game, total-point series opening here tonight.

The winner will advance to the western Canada senior finals against Winnipeg St. Andrews.

Dominoes usually a threat for the Dominion title, showed their class in eliminating the Jacks without difficulty, winning by a 112-79 margin in the two games on the Raymond floor.

Toilers' chief hope is lanky Johnny Clark who has amassed a total of 347 points during the past league season, 49 of them one game. The Saskatoon team is well fortified with experienced players as well and their supporters believe the British Columbia team will have plenty of trouble on its hands.

The second game will be played here Wednesday night.

This Week In Farming

Every Tuesday by J. V. O'Neill

Interest of U. S. Farmers In Prairie Areas Growing

Reports continue to grow regarding the interest American farmers are exhibiting in the prairie provinces, particularly the Peace River area and certain sections of Saskatchewan.

The latest comes from F. F. Johnson, who is visiting in Edmonton prior to returning to his large mechanized farm at Maidstone, Sask., after having spent several months in Portland, Oregon.

Mr. Johnson said he had been approached on numerous occasions by farmers of the Portland district inquiring about the farming possibilities in the wooded areas and plains of Western Canada.

Farmers Said Amazed at Land Prices

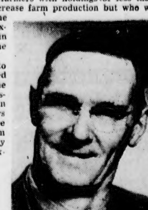
He said the American farmers showed marked amazement when informed that some of the west's most productive farm lands were available at prices ranging from $20 to $30 per acre.

Chief interest was shown by farmers with holdings of less than a quarter-section who wished to increase farm production but who were discouraged from increasing the size of their farms due to the excessive prices asked for land in most of the productive areas of the Northwestern United States.



F. F. JOHNSON

Mr. Johnson, a frequent visitor to Edmonton, migrated to the United States from Finland around the turn of the century, and from Pittsburgh, Pa., came to Maidstone in 1906, took out his Canadian papers and filed on a homestead which he and his family developed from small beginnings to a completely mechanized farm, specializing exclusively in the raising of wheat.

Forty Years of Farming Experience

With an impressive 40 years farming experience on the plains, Mr. Johnson states that of all the weeds common to the west the Canada thistle packs the biggest headache for most farmers of his district.

"Canada thistle is, from my experience, the farmers' worst enemy, and is one of the worst in all agriculture," said Mr. Johnson, explaining that the perennial not only crowded out development of burgeoning grain seed but thieved almost all reserve moisture due to its extensive and deep root system and pattern.

Mr. Johnson hopes that a successful weedicide will result from the intensive experimentation now being carried on at agricultural stations of the provinces, the Dominion, and at University farms.

He effected some measure of control over the weed by long hours of extra cultivation by plowing deep early in the spring and leaving it exposed for about six weeks.

Another Successful Method Outlined

Another successful method of ridding the root system is by sowing to crested wheat grass a large section of land infested with the Canada thistle and leaving it in idleness for a year or more. The roots of crested wheat grass are mortal enemies of those of the Canada thistle and usually in one season they succeed in choking them out of existence.

Once the land is re-broken and sown to grain the root system of crested wheat grass ceases to persist in growth, with a result that it uses little if any moisture. Another advantage is its slow disintegration in death, providing thereby excellent sub-soil fibre.

The farmers who approached Mr. Johnson regarding the farming picture of Saskatchewan and Alberta almost invariably exhibited a wide interest in the governments of those provinces, being the only two of their respective kinds actually governing a state or province in the history of North America.

New Plan For Implement Financing

An attractive pamphlet, "A New Plan for Financing Farm Implement Purchases," has been issued recently by the Administration of the Farm Improvement Loans Act. This pamphlet sets out in a concise manner the advantages of the plan to the farmer, the manufacturer, and the dealer alike.

That the plan has much to offer is proved by the fact that over $2,000,000 has already been loaned for the purchase of farm implements in Canada. Indications are that the plan will be extensively used this year by Canadian farmers for the necessary financing in connection with farm implement purchases.

A copy of this pamphlet can be obtained by writing to the Supervisor, Farm Improvement Loans, Department of Finance, Ottawa.

Potato Beetle Controlled by DDT

DDT has given excellent control of the Colorado potato beetle, the potato flea beetle, and the potato leafhopper. In spray form particularly, it is also effective against potato aphids.

As a spray DDT can be combined with Bordeaux mixture, with any of the fixed coppers or with the newer organic fungicides. It is used at the rate of one pound of actual DDT to each 100 gallons of liquid.

As a dust DDT is used in three per cent. strength, combined with some suitable filler and fixed coppers. DDT cannot be used in the old copper-lime dust as the lime in this combination sharply reduces the toxicity of the poison.

In spraying or dusting with DDT preparations, the same directions as where calcium arsenate or paris green was formerly used should be followed. The time to commence treatment is when potato beetle eggs are first noticed hatching. Repeated applications should be made at intervals of 10 days until the tops die naturally. Both the upper and lower surfaces of the leaves during each applications should be covered with the spray or dust.

Years Change Meaning of "Spud"

"Spud" in common parlance nowadays means a potato, but there was a time two centuries ago when S-P-U-D stood for the Society for the Prevention of Unwholesome Diet. The society was formed in protest against the introduction of potatoes into Great Britain. Potatoes were looked upon as something unfit for food.

1945 Imperial Oil Income Shows Gain

TORONTO, April 16—(CP)—Reporting a net income of $16,616,586 for 1945 after all deductions, Imperial Oil Limited realized a small increase of earnings over 1944. Earnings were equal to 61.62 cents on each share of stock outstanding. A third of the net came from dividends from the company's subsidiary, International Petroleum, Company, Limited.

Income derived from Canadian operations, before depreciation and taxes, was $20,678,432 compared with $22,943,435 for 1944. Depreciation was lowered by about $1,000,000 at $3,783,628 and provision for Canadian income and excess profits taxes was $6,542,517, a reduction from $8,306,775 provided in 1944.

THE NET INCOME of $10,352,287 was equal to 38.39 cents on each share of stock outstanding compared with 36.84 cents per share earned previously.

Dividends from Canadian subsidiaries and miscellaneous income added $678,262 and dividends from International Petroleum Company, after taxes, was $5,586,036, or 20.71 cents per share, the same as in 1944. Net from all other sources in 1944 equalled 60.05 cents per share.

Stock Exchanges To Close Monday

TORONTO, April 16—(CP)—The Toronto and Montreal stock exchange will extend the usual Easter holidays by closing down after Thursday's session this week to Tuesday morning, April 23.

TODAY'S MARKETS

Toronto Stocks

TORONTO, April 16—(CP)—Industrial stocks continued on the upward slant in today's Toronto Exchange market and other groups showed little net change at the close. Base metal issues were strong at mid-day but they failed to hold. Trading volume was lower than usual at about 1,500,000 shares.

Golds were well down for the day, the speculative issues sharing prominently in the losses. Dome held a fractional gain.

Western oils showed little change. Royalite and Okalta were up a bit and Calmont, East Crest and Roxana were slightly weaker.

HELP SAVE* as many as 6000 LIVES!

* Conservative estimates say ⅓ to ½ of the 13,000 Canadians who die annually from Cancer could be saved by early diagnosis and treatment.

The toll taken by Cancer every day, every week, every year . . . can be reduced. But to save these precious lives education, research and treatment are desperately needed. Remember Cancer strikes all people—all ages. Your help today may aid a loved one tomorrow . . . may aid you!

Your Province Needs

What we are planning for Alberta

1. Through the distribution of literature, the use of films, the spoken word, and every agency of modern publicity to reach every community, every person in the Province, and so create a healthy, sane attitude toward cancer. Fear is our worst enemy, knowledge our great ally in the fight against cancer.
2. Our aim should be nothing less than to see that the best medical skills and the finest cancer-fighting techniques are easily accessible and immediately available to every cancer case. The Government Cancer Clinics are the proper agencies to supply this need. We think these Clinics should be made full-time Clinics just as soon as this is necessary to effective action against cancer.
3. We aim to set up in all towns and cities a permanent local organization or committee with which our Provincial Office can keep in touch.
4. A campaign of this kind requires money. Hence the modest objective of $35,000.00 for the Province.

Alberta Government Cancer Services

The Provincial Department of Health operates two Cancer Diagnostic Clinics:

(1) At the Provincial Building, Edmonton, every Tuesday and Friday, from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m.

(2) At Holy Cross Hospital, Calgary, every Friday afternoon from 2 p.m. to 6 p.m.

To be admitted to the Clinics, patients must present the official form signed by their family physician.

Diagnosis is free and subsequent treatment by X-Rays, Radium or Surgery is free, if authorized in writing by the Clinic.

Free hospitalization is restricted to the diagnostic period, if hospitalization is necessary for that purpose, for a period not exceeding fourteen days.

The ROAD AHEAD

By HARPER PROWSE, M.L.A.

THERE is a lot of muddled thinking being done in Canada today. There are a lot of people who have different incomplete ideas about the same thing. This fact, to some extent, explains the situation in which we now find ourselves. I doubt if there is anybody in Canada who knows for sure where we are going, or even where we want to go.

IF A MAN WERE to start off on a journey without having any idea of where he wanted to go we would think he was downright stupid. Then surely it is silly for a man to start off on a journey without knowing where he wants to go. It is even more silly for a nation to be dreaming about a future until it has decided what it hopes to have in that future. Yet that is exactly the position we are in today.

To make what I mean clearer let's just look at a couple of problems which are staring us in the face today. First let us ask ourselves: "Why do we want to build houses?" Is it to provide jobs for those who are engaged in the construction business and trades, or is it to provide shelters for people to live in? The people who want a place to live in, of course, believe that we should build houses so that they can obtain shelter. But the people in the construction business and trades are more interested in steady and continued employment.

THEN, JUST TO complicate the issue, we find that the real estate people believe that we build houses so that we can rent them, or sell them at a profit. Civic and municipal authorities want houses built for two good reasons—first they will provide a source of tax revenue, and secondly, people keep

40-Hour Week Endorsed Here

A resolution endorsing the stand of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada on the 40-hour week and supporting negotiations being carried on by local unions with their employers for establishment of the 40-hour week was passed at the regular meeting of the Edmonton Trades and Labor Council in the Labor Temple Monday evening.

THE MEETING was attended by about 40 union members under chairmanship of Charles Gilbert, vice-president.

A motion introduced by Mr. Gilbert suggesting that a public meeting be held on the question of the 40-hour week was defeated.

A "UNION LABEL committee" was formed to boost the placing of labels on all union products. Chairman of the committee is Arthur Neale, while the secretary is Percy Williams of the garment workers' union.

General discussion of the council's constitution was followed by presentation by Alfred Farmilo, secretary of the trustees' quarterly financial report, indicating a balance on hand for the period January through March of $1,160

Library Worker Is Given Leave

Miss Aleta Vikse, of the children's department, Edmonton public library, was granted four months' leave of absence at a meeting of the library board Monday night. Miss Vikse will journey to Calgary to take over the duties there of acting head of the children's department of the Calgary public library, to take the place of Miss Louise Riley, who will conduct a summer course on library work at the University of Alberta.

IT WAS ANNOUNCED that the grand piano ,ordered by the library, has now arrived and is installed in the main library.

Both the South Side and North Side branches of the library will be closed from Friday, April 19, to Monday, April 22, inclusive. During that period fluorescent lights will be installed in the main branch on the north side.

Report Increase In Use of Power

Production for civic requirements at Edmonton's power plant for the period Jan. 1 to April 7, 1946, totalled 34,406,900 kilowatt hours, compared with 33,003,300 for the same period last year, an increase of 1,403,000 kilowatt hours, according to a report filed Monday with the city commissioners by W. I. McFarland, power superintendent.

Of the 1946 production 27,746,800 kilowatt hours was supplied to the electric light department, compared with 27,087,900 in the 1945 period; 4,409,800 kilowatt hours to the street lighting system, compared with 3,750,200 for the 1945 period, and 2,249,700 kilowatt hours to the waterworks department compared with 2,165,200 in the 1945 period.

Food, Clothing Prices Increase

Such commodities as meat and men's clothing has gone up considerably in price since 1904, according to a copy of The Edmonton Bulletin published in that year and found by Sgt. Y. G. Neilson of the city police inquiry desk during the week-end.

The newspaper was found in an old house in Edmonton, between the wallboard and plaster of one room. Hardened by the addition of the plaster, the paper was well preserved over the years.

Advertisements in the different pages refer to ham going on the market for 15 cents and 18 cents, 12½ and 15 cents, with the notation "this is not old stock." Another advertisement offers men's grey Frieze ulster coats at $5.

School Children Stage Big Concert

Pupils from nine city schools took part in a grand demonstration concert in the Eastwood gymnasium Monday night before an audience of approximately 750 persons. This was the second of three grand concerts being presented by the Edmonton Public Schools Festival Association, the third concert will be held in Westglen school auditorium on Wednesday evening.

THE PROGRAM which consisted of band music, choruses, choral reading folk dancing, and physical education displays, was participated in by children from, Alex Taylor, Eastwood, Parkdale, Norwood, Parkdale, Norwood, Spruce Avenue, Queen's Avenue, H. A. Gray, Highlands and McCauley schools. The school boys' band, led by Vernon Newlove, was also in attendance.

Teachers in charge of the numbers, under the chairmanship of the Rev. T. B. Davies, were: Miss E. Wild, Miss H. Ross, Mrs. E. Wotherspoon, Miss E. Waitti, Miss H. Taylor, Miss H. McNeil, Miss N. DR. J. B. COLLIP

TO GET HONORARY DEGREES—Honorary degree of doctor of laws has been conferred on three Edmonton education authorities shown above, according to an announcement Tuesday from Dr. Robert Newton, president of the University of Alberta. Mr. Justice Frank Ford, who this year completes his term as chancellor of the university, and Dr. G. F. McNally, recently-retired as deputy provincial minister of education, will receive their degrees at the May 15 convocation, when Mr. Justice Ford will deliver the convocation address. Dr. Collip's degree will be awarded at the medical convocation Oct. 5, when he will be special speaker. Dr. Collip, formerly professor of biochemistry and a medical graduate of the university, succeeded the late Sir Frederick Banting as chairman of the National Research Council's Committee on Medical Research

Complacency of Public Toward Menace of Cancer Is Scored

"There are hundreds and hundreds of people in Canada dying of skin cancer that would have been curable if it had been discovered in time," stated J. G. Stephenson, Toronto president of the Canadian Cancer Association, in an address Monday to the Edmonton Kiwanis club.

MR. STEPHENSON, on a western speaking tour in connection with the current educational campaign against cancer, scored the complacency that characterizes the public's attitude toward the disease which he termed, "public enemy No. 1."

The purpose of the present campaign was to enlighten a public unawareness of the insidious onset of cancer and to destroy the ignorance, superstition and fear which has been so long associated with the disease, he said.

Women who discuss their ailments over the back fence with neighbors would do better by telling them to the family physician, and for everybody including men, women and children an annual examination by "a good doctor" was recommended by Mr. Stephenson.

Because infantile paralysis outwardly exhibited its effects it was considered in great fear by the general public, but 10 times as many Canadian children died from cancer in 1943 as from poliomyelitis.

UNLIKE OTHER diseases which the bodily elements marshaled themselves against, advanced cancer left the victim with "no defense whatever" save X-ray, radium and surgery.

In a great proportion of cases radical surgery or treatment by the other two agencies could be prevented if the patient in question had reported early to a physician on discovery of any unusual changes in health and well-being, the speaker warned.

Cancer was a rebellion of one or more cells, which, if neglected, rapidly multiplied throughout the body rendering cure doubtful and treatment difficult if left for any length of time, he said.

The speaker said he had been told there were "only eight men in Canada who are supremely trained to handle the cancer situation", but despite this dearth of trained personnel the facilities and progress of treatment clinics in Alberta had helped to mark that province as one with a low cancer mortality rate.

THE LOCAL BRANCH of the Cancer Association with headquarters in the Empire Room of the Hudson's Bay Company, is open and ready for membership, he said.

He appealed for members who were interested in spreading the gospel of truth about the disease from authoritative literature obtainable from the association and seeking contributions for the current drive in Alberta for $2,000,000, to help in the work of research and treatment.

Kiwania president R. M. (Dinty) Moore thanked the speaker on behalf of the club.

Eastwood League To Seek Members

A membership drive was planned by members of the Eastwood Community League at the organization's regular monthly meeting held in the community hall Monday night.

Plans for canvass were elected to committee to draw up the final plans and preparations for the drive which is to take place within the next two weeks. Those elected are Mrs. F. White, R. H. Chisholm, D. Rees and W. Eldred. It is expected that more will be added to the committee soon.

AS A RESULT of discussions on the question of remodelling the community hall to make it suitable for recreational purposes, R. H. Chisholm, chairman of the property committee, was elected to make a survey of the cost of a new floor and a basement for the hall.

Chairman of the meeting was the league president, the Rev. A. R. Cragg. It was announced that the next meeting will be held on May 6.

Welders to Meet

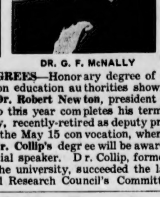
A meeting of the Alberta Welders' Association will be held Thursday in the IOOF hall, 10169 103 avenue. K. L. Lawson, president of the Chicago Vocational Training Corporation Ltd., announced Tuesday. Persons interested in welding are invited to attend.



TO PRESIDE.—Deputy Police Chief Alex Riddell, president of the Highland Games Association of Edmonton who will be chairman of the organization's annual meeting which is to be held in the Edmonton City Dairy board room Wednesday at 8 p.m.

Phones Revenue Reveals Increase

Revenue from the city telephone system for the period Jan. 1 to April 8, totalled $280,365.11 compared with $266,614.88, an increase of $13,780.23, according to a report filed with the city commissioners Monday by Robert Christie, superintendent of the system.

As of April 8, 1946, there were 25,374 telephones in operation compared with 24,264 on the same day last year, the increase in number in operation on April 8 this year 14,816 were in residents, and 10,558 in business places. On the same day in 1945 there were 14,443 in residences and 9,821 in places of business.

Parley Delegation To Leave April 22

Alberta's representatives to the Dominion-provincial conference will be leaving Edmonton on Monday, April 22, it was learned Monday. The delegation is headed by Premier Ernest Manning. He will be accompanied by Hon. Lucien Maynard, KC, the attorney general; Hon. W. A. Fallow, minister of public works and Hon. Dr. Cross, minister of health. Hon. N. E. Tanner, minister of lands and mines who will be in the east on departmental business, will join the party there.

J. F. PERCIVAL, deputy provincial treasurer, and G. H. Monahan, deputy minister of public works, will be in the party.

A series of cabinet meetings is scheduled for this week to give the delegation necessary ammunition to defend Alberta's stand on questions of reforms.

8 Divorce Decrees Are Granted Here

Eight decrees absolute of divorce were granted in supreme court Monday by Mr. Justice Clinton J. Ford. The decrees were granted to: Elizabeth J. Carr from Donald Carr; Catherine C. Guenette from Paul Guenette; Charles H. Scharff from Junita E. Scharff; Leonard C. Wheatley from Mamie A. Wheatley; Alexander Thomson from Kathleen C. Thomson; Ruth P. L. Scott from Percy C. ## Close Civic Block

The Civic Block will be closed on Good Friday and Saturday it was announced Tuesday by the city commissioners. The civic offices will be open on Monday.

Group Will Seek Yellowknife Data

A party of 22 men from New York and Toronto, comprising feature writers, photographers and newsreel operators, are scheduled to arrive in Edmonton by private plane on Saturday, according to a telegram from Gordon Jones, a member of the party, received Monday by the Alberta and Northwest Chamber of Mines and Resources.

THE COMMUNICATION stated that the party's objective was Yellowknife, and that they would remain some time in that district gathering data for films and stories. Further information regarding the firms or organizations represented by the party was not given in the communication, officials of the Chamber stated Tuesday.

Damages of $4,800 Awarded in Mishap

Damages totalling $4,800 were awarded to Richard Clayton and Mrs. Vivian Clayton for injuries received by Mrs. Clayton in a collision between a street car and a McNeil's taxi at the intersection of Jasper avenue and 100A street; on October 2, 1944.

In a judgment handed down in supreme court Tuesday by Mr. Justice Hugh John Macdonald the McNeill's taxi company will bear two-thirds of the damages awarded, and the City of Edmonton, one-third the jurist apportioning the responsibility for the accident on that basis.

L. D. HYNDMAN, KC, appeared for the plaintiffs, and S. Bruce Smith, KC, for McNeill's Taxi Ltd. and T. E. Garside, KC, city solicitor for the City of Edmonton.

Mrs. Clayton received severe shock, multiple bruises and contusions, and a fracture of the left pelvis in the accident.

There is still a slight disability in the pelvis structure, and she suffers pain in her left hip if she walks for some distance. She has a slight limp as a result of the accident. She was awarded $4,000 general damages. Her husband was awarded a total of $800 for special damages.

The wholesale business of the United States amounts to $70,000,000,000 annually.

Blaze Damages 104 Street Shop

Extensive fire and water damage was caused by a blaze which broke out in the Crown Paving Repair shop, 10336 104 street, about 9:45 p.m. Monday.

Fire broke in an office at the centre of the building and spread to the ceiling of the one-storey brick building. Rear occupied by Smith Batteries at the front and the repair shop in the back half.

FIREMEN EXPERIENCED difficulty bringing the flames under control as they spread out between two layers of the roof. The most extensive damage was caused to the roof with considerable water damage also occurring.

Equipment from the halls No. 2 and 5 responded to the alarm and three lines of hose were laid under direction of Fire Chief James Macgregor.

No estimate of the damage was available at press time, but R. C. Marshall, owner of the repair shop stated that the loss was covered by insurance. Slight damage also was caused on the premises occupied by Smith Batteries.

Riverdale Names Slate of Officers

The Riverdale Community League elected a full slate of officers and committees last night at a well attended meeting of the league. The president announced a bus service offer from a bus operator on condition that certain requirements be met. The publicity functions of the league were assigned to the education committee. The colorful May festival, an annual event in Riverdale, will be held on May 3 and 4.

The following were elected to office for one year: President, Girvin Walker; vice-president, Cyril Smith; secretary, Jack T. Jackson; treasurer, Harry Whitehead; social committee, H. Jones, Mrs. R. T. Cory, E. Miller; recreation committee, K. Bayly, C. Smith, H. Jones; education committee, Ben Hager, Mrs. J. T. Jackson, Mrs. L. F. Trahan; membership committee, Mrs. W. Haight, Mrs. J. T. Jackson Mrs. J. Webber; civics committee C. Willett, L. L. Pound, L. F. Trahan; Federation committee, G. Walker, J. T. Jackson, K. Bayly, C. Willetts, B. Hager, J. Moon.

New City Hotel Said "Definite"

Edmonton will definitely have a new modern hotel, costing an estimated $6,000,000 and work will start on the huge structure that may be 15 stories high, this fall, Frank M. Andrews, New York City architect, stated Monday.

MR. ANDREWS, an outstanding American designer of palatial hotels, made the preliminary announcement concerning the new hotel some weeks ago, stating he was acting on behalf of a Canadian-American syndicate, which would build the hotel.

He said at the time that the syndicate had options on one or more sites for the hotel that would have from 500 to 1,000 guest rooms.

No definite announcement has as yet been made as to the site and neither have plans financing the project been named.

The syndicate is not connected with any existing chain of hotels, Mr. Andrews stated.

In the meantime Mr. Andrews has been engaged by the Ba-Loy Spark Plug Co., Ltd. of Columbus to draw plans for a spark plug manufacturing plant the company is building here.

THE NEW YORK architect said his work for the Ba-Loy company will interfere in the least with the hotel project.

"The hotel will definitely be built," he told newsmen.

Plan Educating For Citizenship

A program of educating for a better citizenship will be carried on by the Canadian Corps Association across Canada. That was the message brought Saturday by Major Faye Davies, Toronto, Dominion Corps president who met with A. M. Adamson, president of the Edmonton branch, and members of the local executive. Major Davies said a Corps re-organization and expansion program was underway.

FO. M. Little Is Awarded DFC

FO. M. W. Little, son of Dr G. M. Little, medical office for health and Mrs. Little, 11031 88 avenue, has been awarded the DFC, according to word received here by his parents. The citation read: Flight Lieutenant Hugh John Macdonald the McNeill's taxi company will bear two-thirds of the damages awarded, and the City of Edmonton, one-third the jurist apportioning the responsibility for the accident on that basis.

"This officer has completed a considerable number of operational sorties. He has developed great skill in supply dropping missions in the Arakan area often in the face of enemy fire. Throughout his operational career this officer has set a high standard of courage and devotion to duty. FO. Little, who graduated from the University of Alberta in 1943, has been demobilized and will return to the university in September to take his first year in medicine. He completed his medical courses prior to joining the RCAF.

DOROTHY DIX SAYS—

Rush Into Marrying When They Do Not Love

There Is No Little Bobbysocker So Dumb as Not to Know That Marriage Is a Risky Business and Few Get Their Heart's Desire

It is understandable why every girl would like to marry. It is the fulfillment of her romantic dreams. It saves her from being an old maid, which she dreads more than death itself. And, in some curious way, it gratifies a feminine yearning to show that she is attractive to men.

If every marriage ended in story-book fashion, "and they lived happily ever afterwards," it would be easy to see why girls are so eager to possess husbands, but there is no little bobbysocker so dumb as not to know that marriage is a risky business and few there are who ever get their heart's desire in it. Most of them have grown up in homes that were an awful warning against matrimony, instead of being a come-on to it.

THE RUSH to the altar would also be easily understandable if every bride were so bemused by love that she saw Fairy Prince in any common or garden, variety of man, but such is by no means always the case. Innumerable girls marry men for whom they have only a mild liking and who do not quicken their heartbeats by a single pulsation.

And why they do it, only the Lord, who made that strange combination of contradictions we call Woman, knows. For these girls who are apparently marrying just to be a-marrying are not congenital idiots. On the contrary, most of them have brains enough to hold down good jobs and drive shrewd bargains, except the one in wedding rings. Yet they seem not to count the cost, nor even to ask where do we go from here when they leave the marriage license bureau.

Just now we are having a tragic illustration of this marrying mania that possesses women in the way that so many of the girls who are engaged to servicemen are trying to rush their fiances into marriages for which the boys are not ready.

OF COURSE, it has been a long and dreary and heart-wrenching wait for the girls whose sweethearts were overseas. They have knit many a dream and plan for the future into the socks and sweaters they have sent to their Toms, Dicks and Harrys, and now they are so eager to realize them they are shutting their eyes to realities.

They won't see that the boy of 18 or 19 who left them has been changed by the experiences of war into a man years older than his real age; that one who has been facing danger and death for years is emotionally exhausted and wants no new experiences and to take on no new responsibilities.

Nor will they face the fact that the boy may have outgrown his hobbledehoy romances, or, what is only too sadly the truth, even if he still loves his old sweetheart, he is in no position to marry her because he has no money and no way by which to support a family.

But the girls who have waited so long to wear their wedding dresses will wait no longer, and many a soldier who never quailed before the enemy lacks the courage to break with the girl he no longer loves and marries her. And many another soldier is sold into servitude for life to a poor job because the girl friend was in such a hurry to move into the little cottage she had planned.

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN—

Why Grow Old?

In keeping with Josephine Lowman's theory about age, we won't wonder about the age of lovely Ann Harding, above. Instead, we'll consider that she has a 17-year-old daughter and that this mother's youthful charm probably is the result of a correct mental attitude.

THE OTHER DAY I asked my mother how old she is. She said, "Honestly, I don't know offhand. Let's see—what do you want to know for?"

"No special reason", I replied. "It's just natural for an off-spring to wonder how old its parents are, I guess".

I thought she was teasing me and a little later left the room. When I returned mother was at her desk with a pencil and paper, working on some figures. I asked her what she was doing and she said she was, "Counting up her age".

JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

"For goodness sake, don't do it even if you aren't very old. I think it is wonderful to be that unconscious of age".

But she continued, "I'm curious about it myself now".

ACTUALLY, mother has always been one of the youngest, prettiest women I have ever known, and that's not just because I love her. She has a skin which puts most younger women to shame. She also has the youthful mental attitude of enjoying life as it comes and a sweet disposition. She has always been better able to adapt herself happily to changing circumstances than anyone I have ever known. She typifies what I think the attitude toward years should be.

It is not a matter of pretending to be younger than one is. This course highlights one's age and keeps it even more painfully in the foreground of consciousness than the usual attitude. However, why do so many women count each year so carefully and than seem to plan what they want and what they do by what the calendar says is right?

I just do not see how life can be measured in years and remain vital and exciting! Those who are busy living and enjoying it are the ones who seldom think of years at all. Of course, there is always someone who says, "At our age"

THE FUNNY THING to me is that I do not remember ever having heard that phrase used with a happy connotation. It is always brought forth in connection with something like creaking joints or not knowing how to jitterbug.

I have never heard anyone say, "At our age, isn't it wonderful! Now heavier responsibilities are lessened. I can do this or that which I have wanted to do for so long," or, "At our age we have more sense, or more fun, or more joy out of living, or more love.

If the phrase, "At our age," begets such dreary thoughts and attitudes it seems it had better be left untaid

Your Baby And Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

It would seem that "bogy-men" had passed out in the last generation, there has been so much publicity antagonistic to them, yet amazes one to find grandparents, who are presumably in their forties, giving lip service to this ancient discipline.

A CONSTANT READER is struggling in her family with too many houses for her two-year-old. This mite has been moved from family to family while his father was in the army. In addition, he has been hospitalized and subjected to hypodermics and intravenous feedings. "Because of these experiences," writes his mother, "he is hysterically afraid of needles and cannot even see me sew without getting excited and crying.

"I can't leave him or the house without his crying for me and he is jealous of his father when I go to me. "Hey, that's my Mommy. Look at me, Mommy," he will cry and yet will love to play daddy dearly.

"HE IS VERY EXCITABLE and wakens two or three times at night. We live with my parents and they teach the boy fear of the dark and of the bogey-man. He cries bitterly and they think he is smart because he understands so well what they say. When we protest they assert they reared my husband that way and he wasn't hurt.

"The baby has security now and lots of love. Can you help?"

NOT UNLESS you can put your own ideas into practice. Because one child wasn't hurt by methods which are in general disfavor, is no criterion that another might not be scared by such tactics. On the face of it, all good child-rearing is positive, not negative. We don't teach the child to be afraid we teach him to be courageous. Any method which deprives him of courage is detrimental to him, whether it be by means of bogey-man or just horrible threats or warnings of any kind.

He hasn't had time to recover from his hospital experiences and I know exactly how he feels about hypodermics and intravenous feedings. Seven weeks in a hospital last year made me flinch at the sight of anyone approaching with a needle.

SO BE PATIENT. If possible get into your own home, however small. Let him build up a liking for some reliable person who can be company to him in daytime or when you must go out. He'll develop stability as he finds that nothing but pleasant experiences result from being left with strangers. But this has to be gradual, not an accomplishment that you can count on in a few weeks.

Our leaflet No. 41 "Teaching Independence," will help the mother dealing with a dependent child. It may be had by sending a stamped self-addressed envelope with this request to Myrtle Meyer Eldred in care of this newspaper.

Princess Margaret Confirmed Monday

WINDSOR, England, April 16.—(Reuters)—Princess Margaret will be 16 Aug. 21, was confirmed yesterday by the Archbishop of Canterbury, Dr. Geoffrey Fisher, in the private chapel at Windsor Castle. The King and Queen, Queen Mary, Princess Elizabeth and the Duchess of Kent were present.

Minute Make-Ups

If you can't make up your mind to cut your hair, try "slicking" it in swirls close to your head. Secure the swirls with little flat combs. And, if it looks too severe, cut a slanting bang and curl it to give a soft look above the eyes.

Prospector Slain, Partner Charged

MAYO, Y.T., April 16.—(CP)—Peter Nord was held here today on a murder charge while arrangements were being completed for an inquest into the death of George Potter, a veteran Yukon prospector who was shot and fatally wounded.

Potter, 60, prospector partner of Nord, was shot while in bed in his hotel room Friday. Police said Nord had been celebrating their discovery of gold recently on their claims.

INVESTIGATION by Inspector H. H. Cronkhite of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, is concentrated on the theory that the man who shot him felt he was double-crossed when Potter staked new claims on Johnson Creek and "struck it rich" again.

Police said Nord was only slightly wounded in the left breast in what they described as a suicide attempt with a shotgun after Potter was shot. Nord is being treated in jail in this northland post, 100 airmiles northwest of Vancouver.

Dr. Barrie Duncan went by Plane from Dawson to Mayo for the inquest.

A CRUST OF BREAD...

That's all.

A single crust of bread for the whole day!

Unbelievable?

You cannot believe it because you have never seen the broken farms, the silent shells of factories and the empty shop windows of Europe . . . because you have never seen the barren lands of China and India, teeming with starving millions . . . and because, to you, a crust of bread seems so little.

Can we refuse to share when we have so much? Can we refuse to fill the hand that Canada is stretching to the hungry?

A crust of bread, for those who are lucky enough to find that crust, is not enough.

Be glad we're sharing our food supply with a stricken world.

Food will win the Peace

Kay Gimblett Becomes Bride

Spring flowers formed the setting in the First Presbyterian church, Saturday at 7 p.m., for the wedding of Miss Kathleen Lucy Gimblett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Gimblett of Edmonton, and Stanley Dugald Ferguson, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. K. Ferguson of Gibbons. The Rev. J. Macheath Miller officiated. Arthur Newcombe played the wedding music and Mrs. Hector Currie sang "Through the Years", during the signing of the register.

ENTERING THE CHURCH on the arm of her father, the bride wore a gown of blush pink satin, fashioned with a tight bodice, tapering to a V-shape. The sleeves were long, coming to lily points over the wrists and the round neckline was styled with a net V-shaped yoke, trimmed with lace. A scalloped flounce trimmed the hem of the skirt and her headdress was a coronet of pleated lace. She carried a cascade bouquet of Talisman roses and violets and her only jewelry was a pearl necklace, gift of the bridegroom.

Miss Grace Hardy was bridesmaid. She wore a deep pink sheer gown over satin, with bishop sleeves, round neckline and shirred bodice. She wore a cap fashioned of pink velvet flowers, trimmed with violet ribbon bows. She carried a nosegay of violets and white carnations.

LLOYD WRIGHT was best man and ushering the guests to their pews marked with white ribbons and mauve stalks, were Clifford Craig and Tim Gibbons.

After the ceremony, a reception was held in the drawing room of the Macdonald hotel, for 65 guests. Mother of the bride, receiving with the bridal party, wore a sky-blue crepe afternoon frock complemented with a black straw hat and corsage of pink roses. Mother of the bridegroom chose an afternoon frock in a mauve tone with a corsage of yellow roses.

The bride's table was laid with a lace cloth, was centred with a three-tiered wedding cake embedded in pink tulle and surrounded with heather, sweetheart roses and forget-me-nots. Pink roses completed the floral decorations and slender white tapers flanked the centrepiece. Spring flowers decorated the reception rooms. Presiding at the coffee urns were Mrs. J. Ness, aunt of the bride, and Mrs. R. H. Sterns. Assisting in serving were the Misses Mima Templeman, Helen Speakman and Jessie Templeman. H. R. Harris was toastmaster and the bridal toast was proposed by Jack Little.

THE COUPLE IS spending a honeymoon at the Pacific Coast and for travelling the bride donned a two-piece ensemble with three-quarter length coat, with brown fur trim on the cuffs. On her head she wore a strawberry and blue taffeta model hat with gloves to match. Other accessories were brown.

Upon their return, the couple will take up residence in Edmonton at 11226 97 street. Among the out-of-town guests was Mrs. J. Ness of Winnipeg, aunt of the bride.

Miss Patricia Magee Popular Bride-Elect

Complimenting Miss Patricia Magee, whose marriage to Flt. Lt. Jack Jaworski, AFC, takes place Easter Monday, several parties were arranged. Sunday morning a breakfast party was held at the Macdonald hotel by the Upsilon Tau Delta club, of which the bride is a member. There were eight guests.

Mrs. Percy Powers entertained at luncheon at her home on Thursday.

Mrs. Andrew Strang gave a coffee party at her home on Wednesday when Miss Mary Strang of Winnipeg shared honors with Miss Magee.

Sunday afternoon Miss Catharine McGrath entertained at the tea hour when there were 15 guests and the bride-elect's mother, Mrs. T. S. Magee poured tea at a table set with lace and centred with spring flowers.

Mrs. S. C. Tweed Tells Story Of Liberals Accomplishments

"The greatest mistake of the Liberals in Canada in the last six years is that we have not told our story to the people," declared Mrs. S. C. Tweed, assistant national director of the National Liberal Federation of Canada, addressing a luncheon meeting of the Edmonton Women's Liberal club in the Macdonald hotel Tuesday at noon.

"We have gone through the greatest epoch in Canadian history and under Liberal administration we have placed our country in an enviable position among the nations of the world. It is an impressive sight in Ottawa today to see the diplomats from so many nations taking part in a public function.

"In regard to our own national life our social progress in these last few years has been outstanding. We have such a greatly increased and widely distributed national income that the savings of Canadian people in banks, bonds and other sound investments has increased from three billion dollars in 1939 to nine billion in 1945, tripled in six years.

"We have paid for the war as far as possible as we went along. We have added less to our national debt.

"WHY HAVEN'T we told this story to our people? Because our Liberal party put authority for each department into the hands of men who did their job instead of talking about it. I heard a cabinet minister say a few days ago that even members of the cabinet did not know the extent of the job that had been done, much less private members and the rank and file of the party. And yet opposition parties are crying aloud about the glories of other lands and their short comings. Of course we have problems—what else could we have after six years of mortal conflict. But let us ask these critics if they know of any other land under the blue skies where they would rather bring up their children, she said.

DRAWING a parallel between a group of musicians in an orchestra and a political party, Mrs. Tweed, Mesnard, of St. Anne de Bellevue, Que., assistant to Mrs. Tweed, said that if the orchestra wishes to achieve success in the size of its listening audience, unity must exist among the musicians, and they must co-operate to achieve distinctive harmony.

"Likewise, if the Liberal party wishes to achieve success at the polls and later in governing this great country of ours, then they harmoniously the Liberals should co-operate," she said. Each individual has his part to play and no part is so small that it can be played poorly or wrongly, she continued.

When a musician deliberately decides to join an orchestra, it is because he loves good music, she stated. "Thus, when I deliberately decided to be Liberal with a capital 'L,' it was because I saw in the Liberal party the great word 'democracy,' she said.

SEATED at the head table with the guest were Mrs. W. H. Sommerville of Clive, president of the Alberta Women's Liberal Association; J. W. Stambaugh of Bruce, president of the Alberta Liberal Association; Mrs. Cora T. Casselman, and officers of the Liberal clubs in the city. Miss Mary Scullion, T. L. Cross and A. M. Dechene. Mrs. W. A. Lamb, president of the club, received.

Education Committee Hears Annual Report

The annual report of the education committee of the University Women's club of Edmonton, highlighted the April meeting of that organization, held Saturday afternoon in the Arts building of the University of Alberta. Miss C. Manser, convener of the education committee, and Mrs. Roy Anderson and Mrs. F. C. Butterworth, two of the members of the committee reported on the work being done and spoke of the increased public interest in education in the city of Edmonton, and the imperative need for considerably more, public support.

Mrs. John W. Scott reported that in accordance with the foster-parent plan urged by Dr. Lotta Hitschmanova when she addressed a public meeting sponsored by the University Women's Club in Edmonton last November, several children were now "adopted" by individuals or groups within the club for the purpose of giving these European children three months of much-needed care in hospitals and homes established for that purpose in France.

Mrs. P. J. Morgan entertained at a miscellaneous shower recently in honor of Miss Lois MacKay a bride-elect.

Points for Parents

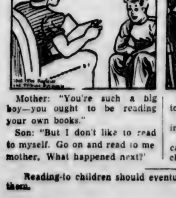
By EDYTH THOMAS WALLACE



Mother: "You're such a big boy—you ought to be reading your own books."

Son: "But I don't like to read to myself. Go on and read to me mother. What happened next?"

Mother: "How would you like to have a family reading circle?"

Son: "Can we take turns choosing what book we'll read?"

Mother: "Yes, and each one can take his turn in reading a chapter aloud."

Reading-to children should eventually graduate into reading-with them.

Mrs. Pardee Presides

Mrs. E. C. Pardee, provincial commissioner, presided at the annual dinner of the Girl Guide Association, held in the ballroom of the Palliser hotel, Calgary, Saturday evening. City Commissioner Van Newhall extended a welcome to the delegates from the city of Calgary.

Miss Geneva Lent extended greetings from the Canadian Handicraft Guild and she commented on the high standard of work shown in the Guide Handicraft exhibit. She advised the use of better or more suitable material which now should be available. Miss Lent was impressed with the work from the First Ermineskin Company of Hobbema. Their design was true folk art or they used original designs combining guide motifs.

PRESENTATION of three cups for handicraft was made by Mrs. Pardee to the 13th Edmonton Brownie Pack, to the 10th Calgary Guide Company and to the 10th Calgary Ranger Company, respectively.

A thanksgiving badge was presented to Mrs. J. H. Woods of Calgary, and one to Mrs. G. B. Sanford of Edmonton. Certificates of merit were awarded to Mrs. G. I. Neilson, Red Deer; Mrs. Eric Cormack, Alix; Miss Earla Graham, Edmonton; Mrs. W. E. Henry, Fort Saskatchewan; Mrs. Alexander Clarke, Lethbridge; Miss May Stockford, Miss Nesta Meikle, Mrs. W. C. Sayre and Mrs. Vernon Earle, all of Calgary.

SPEAKER for the evening was the Very Rev. Frank Smye, Dean of Calgary, who paid tribute to the valor of Girl Guides, or girls who had had Guide training, in European countries. He said the courage and steadfastness of these young girls in the face of danger during the Battle of Britain was a strength to the nation.

The singing of the Calgary Girl Guide choir was enjoyed by the guests.

Girls Train To Preach

TORONTO, April 15. — (CP)— Horses, bicycles, buggies and even one or two ancient motor cars will be the mode of transport for 23 girls now training in United Church colleges who will go preaching in mission fields throughout Canada this summer.

The United Church already has girls working in Canadian frontier sections throughout the country.

"... and they have done splendid work," said the Rev. M. C. Macdonald, of the Home Mission department.

"These girls will be on fields in the prairie provinces, British Columbia, Alberta, Ontario and possibly the Maritimes," said Mr. Macdonald. "They will work from two to eight preaching points on their charges. Most of them will preach three times a Sunday."

Although the girl preachers will not conduct communion services, baptize babies or marry people (only ordained ministers may do that) they will organize and conduct Sunday schools, look after vacation church and schools, and conduct funerals.

As for salary (the girls will receive the same as any student preacher—$16 a week plus board and travel.

Girls in training in colleges outside of Victoria and Emmanuel at Toronto include Alice Walker at United College, Winnipeg, and Anna Cline, St. Andrew's, Saskatoon.

How to make your Easter table attractive

Whether your Easter celebration includes only the immediate family or whether you make the day one for entertaining, the occasion calls for table decorations. Here is an idea that may be used for almost any Easter party and for every age group, too.

EASTER BONNET CENTERPIECE

The main attraction of our centerpiece is a hatbox. It may be either round or square, plain or lacy and it doesn't have to be a fancy one. Ours is covered with gay striped gift paper, but the same effect is obtained by covering the hatbox in plain pastel colored paper and pasting on contrasting stripes. (Vegetable glue makes a neater job of this, for it doesn't come through the paper.) Plain or figured shelf paper, wallpaper or even cloth may also be used. Use real ribbon of harmonizing or contrasting color or crepe paper to cover the box and form the bow. Line the box with pastel-colored tissue paper; tilt the lid and let sprays of spring blossoms or flowers, pussy willows or green leaves hang out over the side.

Place one or two toy bunnies (or you could use a pottery bunny, chicken or duck, or a covered hen dish) by the hatbox. Arrange flowers or decorated Easter eggs and leaves around the hatbox to complete the centerpiece.

"Y" War Services To End June 30th

Canadian YMCA war services will be continued in army camps and barracks areas until June 30, 1946, officials of the Edmonton YMCA announced Tuesday. Program services in local YMCA's terminated March 31, although the Edmonton YMCA is continuing to extend swimming and shower-bath facilities to men on active service.

ON JUNE 30 ALL services to armed personnel in Canada will end, but services to personnel overseas is to be continued until the last man moves home.

Certificates of war services and YMCA war services badges are being distributed by the national council of the YMCA to all its supervisors and hostesses who have been honorably released from their war services. These certificates bear the signature of James Y. Murdoch, KC, chairman of the YMCA war services executive committee; and John W. Beaton, senior secretary for war services.

FOR THE PAST NINE months T. A. Dimock, of the national council staff, has been actively engaged in securing information about post-war employed, and in counselling supervisors released in Canada and who have returned from overseas, with respect to their post-war employment.

In the total war period there were 1,776 men and 194 women applied for work with the YMCA war services as supervisors. Out of this number 853 men and 121 women were approved. The total number of actual appointments was 663 men and 119 women. Postings for overseas service numbered: 198 supervisors, 69 male civilians and 57 hostesses and manageresses.

AT THE END OF 1945 there were employed in Canada 162, in Newfoundland four, and overseas 128. By April 1, 1946, the number overseas had dwindled to 74. In Canada there were 83.

Sixteen per cent of the personnel of the YMCA war services were teachers prior to joining the YMCA war services; 13 per cent were YMCA secretaries; 13.3 per cent were managers and executives.

Before the Magistrate

Requests made by prisoners appearing in city court are many and varied with the largest number being for leniency. But even Magistrate A. L. Millar, KC, received a surprise Monday morning when a man asked to be sent to penitentiary.

Edward MacDonald charged with the theft of an auto belonging to Mr. Johnston of Gunn, asked to be sent to penitentiary "where I can learn a trade." Magistrate Millar seemed to think it was a good idea too—"two years in Prince Albert penitentiary," he rejoined obligingly.

Court was told that the accused had volunteered information concerning the theft after he had been arrested by RCMP on a liquor offense and sentenced to six months imprisonment. The two year term was ordered to be consecutive with that already being served.

Something new in the way of excuses for being intoxicated was also given in the court Monday when a man accused of that charge told the Magistrate that "I stopped to help an old fellow who was drunk and the police wagon came along and took me in too." He admitted that he had been before the court on similar charges on previous occasions. He was fined $20 and costs.

John W. Sanderson was remanded for trial before the supreme court when he appeared for preliminary hearing on a conversion charge. He is alleged to have failed to turn in $200 collected from William M. Charles for the Ninth Victory Loan.

Mr. Charles testified that he was employed at the American Air Base last October and that the accused collected $200 for the cash purchase of a victory bond. At the same time Sanderson collected $10 as down payment on a $100 bond, Mr. Charles said, adding that he had received the $100 bond, but not the $200 bond. Defence evidence was reserved.

Fines totalling $343 were levied in city court Monday with nine persons charged with breaches of the liquor act paying $330.

Chamber's Council Meeting Cancelled

The regular Wednesday meeting of the council of the Edmonton Chamber of Commerce has been cancelled due to the two-day meeting of the Alberta-British Columbia conference of boards of trade and chambers of commerce now in progress at the Macdonald hotel, chamber officials stated Tuesday. Council members and representatives from various parts of the province will attend the luncheon Wednesday in the Macdonald hotel sponsored by the Edmonton chamber, at which Hon. E. C. Carson, minister of lands and trade and industry for British Columbia, will deliver an address on "Western Canadian Progress".

Bad Cheque Artist Given Prison Term

John B. Romaniuk of Edmonton and Morecambe, was sentenced to six months imprisonment in city court Tuesday on each of seven charges of false pretenses. Sentences were ordered to run concurrently. The accused was charged with having issued seven worthless cheques totalling $46.85 at Willingdon, Beauvallon and Edmonton. The cheques were issued over a period extending from Feb. 21 to April 2.

To Popularize Coast Resorts

The British Columbia government travel bureau will spend $600,000 this year in the largest-scale campaign of newspaper, magazine and motion picture advertising in history to popularize resorts on the coast and in mountain park areas, E. J. Rowbottom, deputy minister of trade and industry for B.C., said here Tuesday.

INTERVIEWED by Edmonton newspapermen at the Macdonald hotel, where he is attending the ABC committee conference of Alberta and B.C. boards of trade, Mr. Rowbottom said that the tourist campaign of the west coast province will be closely integrated with that carried out by the government of Alberta, with issuance of joint folders by the two provinces a feature of the campaign.

Mr. Rowbottom is also president of the Canadian Association of tourist and publicity bureaus, a national organization, which is this year undertaking a campaign, the feature of which is tourist services educational work.

"THE AIM OF THE campaign is to educate the Canadian public to the value of the tourist industry to the national economy. We predict the industry will net Canada $200,000,000 annually in the post-war years.

"The travelling public must be catered to and properly cared for as to facilities. Above all we would like to see a revival of that old-fashioned Canadian courtesy to the travelling public that was one of the regrettable casualties of war", Mr. Rowbottom said.

DURING THE WAR years appropriations for tourist publicity was at a minimum with $15,000 annually being the entire budget for B.C.'s the deputy minister revealed.

The new appropriation of $60,000 for this year tops all pre-war budgets.

The Evergreen Playgrounds' Association, an international Pacific coast organization for the promotion of tourist traffic, is also resuming full scale activity and is spending $30,000 this year on advertising.

Mr. Rowbottom said he is pleased at the reopening of national park resorts this year.

LEGISLATION that will provide for more sanitation in public tourist and auto camps has been passed by the B.C. government and there have been more than 100 new applications for resort licenses.

2,258 Veterans Get Allowances

A decrease in the number of veterans enrolled for out-of-work allowances was registered this week at the department of veterans' affairs. The total receiving allowances up to the week ended April 13 was 2,258 which is a decrease of 14 under the previous week.

THIS IS THE FIRST decrease in veterans' out-of-work allowances since Nov. 10, 1945. In commenting on the decrease J. W. Proctor, district administrator, department of veterans' affairs, said "I feel reasonably sure that this figure will continue to decrease as more of the summer building projects get underway and the spring work starts on the farms."

Eleven Divorce Decrees Granted

Eleven decrees nisi of divorce were granted in supreme court Tuesday by Mr. Justice Clinton J. Ford. The decrees were granted to Kate Stanecki from Chester Stanecki; Richard C. Pitken from Leone L. Pitken; Evelyn P. K. Price from James W. Price; Florence G. Sellers from Stuart Sellers; Donald E. Windsor from Margaret Robert Anderson; Beatrice M. Samuel from William C. Samuel; Thomas A. ## Girls' Complaint Brings Arrest

Alleged by police to have been making improper suggestions to a 15-year-old girl while she was lying in bed with her eight-year-old sister, Bruce J. McPherson, 11302 94 street, was arrested early Tuesday morning. He is charged with contributing to juvenile delinquency.

A TELEPHONE call brought police to a home shortly after midnight Tuesday, where they found McPherson leaving the house.

The 15-year-old girl informed police that she had been sleeping in a bed on the front porch of her home when she was awakened by a man attempting to molest her. She stated that she told the man to leave and he offered her a dollar, saying "I guess you can use a dollar."

THE GIRL, WHO HAD been sleeping with her eight-year-old sister, declared that the man finally went away but returned. The two girls were alone in the house with their 12-year-old brother, who was asleep in another part of the house.

The girl said that the man claimed he had lost his hat and that he was looking for it. The terrified youngster phoned a neighbor, who immediately called for police aid.

While police were investigating the complaint the girl's parents returned.

THEY TOLD POLICE that they had been out with McPherson earlier in the evening and that he had returned home with them. They then left the house to get something to eat, but McPherson had declined to accompany them saying he would stretch out on the chesterfield.

L. McPherson, the father of two children, was shot in the left ankle last February 6 by the father of a 10-year-old girl, who pointed out the 39-year-old ex-serviceman as the man who allegedly had attempted to molest her and her eight-year-old sister.

McPherson entered a plea of not guilty when he appeared in city court Tuesday, and was remanded until April 24 at the request of Crown Prosecutor Kenneth McKenzie.

To Show Houses Built by Vets

Two houses built by veterans at the Canadian Vocational Training school at the Exhibition grounds will go on exhibition for the public during this week, it was announced Tuesday by the Citizens' Rehabilitation Council. The houses are being exhibited through the co-operation of the council and the CVT.

ON WEDNESDAY members of the city service clubs will be given the opportunity of viewing the homes from two to four p.m. A later date for the general public to visit will be announced.

The purpose of the exhibition is to let business men and citizens see what work the trainees have been doing and how the local rehabilitation program is being carried out.

Consider Request For New Bleachers

City commissioners are considering a request from the Edmonton Baseball League that the bleachers at Renfrew Park be extended by 75 feet, Mayor Harry Ainlay stated Monday. He said that an inspection of the park was made Monday and that it was proposed to spend approximately $1,200 on repairs and renovations to the grandstand. Tuesday John Ducey, Riley Mullen and John Beatty, executive members of the League, attended at the city solicitor's office to sign the one-year lease under which the league will operate the Renfrew grounds this year.

Ball Practice

The Maple Leafs Junior baseball team will hold a practice at the north end of Clarke Stadium at 6 p.m. on Tuesday.

Every Wife should answer these questions:

Without you, could your husband provide the RIGHT care for the children? Probably not without extra money to make some suitable arrangement . . . which is good reason why you, as his partner in the business of running the home, should carry insurance on your own life. In any partnership, protection against sudden emergencies is important . . .

Does it matter WHICH life insurance company you choose? It does matter! Life insurance companies are much alike as to policies and rates, but actual long-term results vary widely. We invite you to compare The Mutual Life of Canada's record with that of any other company. Evidence of the satisfaction of Mutual Life policyholders is furnished by the fact that whole families and succeeding generations have entrusted their life insurance programs exclusively to The Mutual Life, and each year approximately 35% of its new business comes from policyholders. Ask your Mutual Life representative to explain the special features of this Company.

Textile Situation To Recover Slowly

FORT WILLIAM, April 16.—(CP)—P. K. Heyland of Toronto, past president of the Canadian Retail Federation, said in an interview yesterday there is little chance of improvement in the textiles situation for a year. Most retail goods are in short supply, and while some classifications will show improvement during 1946, it will be gradual. Reconversion has been much slower than many people had hoped, as a result of a combination of reasons, including strikes.

Women Demand Price Curbs Stay

WASHINGTON, April 16.—(AP)—Housewives crowded into Capitol corridors yesterday demanding that office of price administration be continued without crippling amendments.

The women, gathered from many states, presented to members of Congress a petition one of their leaders described as three city blocks long, bearing an estimated 1,000,000 signatures, asking for a full year's new lease on life for price controls.

THE WOMEN, led by Mrs. Leon Henderson, wife of the former OPA administrator, and Mrs. Ernest K. Lindley, wife of the Washington newspaper columnist, were estimated to number 1,500. They drove up Capitol Hill in more than 200 automobiles.

Mrs. Lindley said the people against price control have been "too pretty vocal," and this demonstration was intended to voice the opinion of those who want the OPA continued.

Home, School Meet

Meeting of the Rutherford Home and School Association will be held at 8 p.m. Wednesday at Rutherford school. Speaker will be Miss Gwen Jones, prominent in YWCA work here, and her address will be followed by presentation of topical motion pictures.

Canadian Navy Now Seeking Recruits

OTTAWA, April 16.—(CP)—The Royal Canadian Navy's 19 reserve divisions across Canada yesterday started recruiting the 18,000 men who will take part-time training and be ready for an emergency. They will also furnish recruits for active service.

The permanent force needs another 6,800 men to bring its total to the required strength of 10,000 men and one of the most glamorous and deepest holes to be filled is in the newly-formed fleet air arm.

NAVAL DIVISIONS have been authorized to recruit up to 65 per cent. of their quotas from former officers and ratings of the reserve demobilized since the war. The remaining 35 per cent. will be made up of rookies without preyious naval experience.

The divisions will be equipped to train ratings up to petty officer qualifications, during their full-time training period. They will be examined at their nearest base, either Halifax or Esquimalt, B.C.

The term of service in the reserve has been set at five years.

Packers Announce New Buying Policy

TORONTO, April 16.—(CP)—Two of Canada's largest meat-packing companies, Canada Packers Ltd., and the Swift Company of Canada, have agreed from now on not to pay any price for live cattle which will be out of line with collapsing levels announced yesterday at a meeting called by Mayor Robert Saunders to deal with reported "black market" operations at the civic abattoir.

In future Canada Packers will not buy cattle at a price which will prevent the company from selling the finished products at ceiling levels, said J. S. McLean, company president. He added that the Swift Company has agreed to do likewise.

British Decide to Nationalize Steel

LONDON, April 16.—(Reuters)—The cabinet at a meeting yesterday at 10 Downing Street, is understood to have made a final decision that the British iron and steel industry must be nationalized in the interests of reorganization and efficiency. Well-informed sources said an official statement is expected on Wednesday or Thursday.

MR. McLEAN ADDED that every head of cattle his company has purchased in recent weeks has meant a final loss of at least $20 a head, in order to try and maintain the business of its customers.

He said instructions have been sent to all company buyers throughout Canada to follow a policy of "sane buying."

Roots

SOMEONE called trees "subterranean animals waving their tails in the air". Roots are forgotten because they are not seen.

So with textiles. You see a sheet, a piece of dress goods or the backing of a carpet, but you cannot see the years of experience and the expensive machinery which went into making it. Back of every "Colonial" sheet, for instance, lies almost a full century of experience and craftsmanship.

Nor do you see the risks and adventures of building an industry to make these things, nor the cost and effort to attain and keep up the quality which enables Canadian-made textiles to compete with those of older and larger countries.

Dominion Textile workers are now busy turning out the many things that are so badly needed for our peacetime living. As long as the present tremendous demands and relative shortages exist, we shall go on distributing our production on a quota basis, playing no favourites.

Legal Notices

Judicial Sale of Farm Property by Tender

Pursuant to the order for sale and directions of the Honourable Mr. Justice Shepherd, sealed tenders will be received for the purchase of:

N.W. ¼ Sec. 36, Twp. 53, Rge. 18, West of the Fourth Meridian, in the Province of Alberta, containing by admeasurement One Hundred and Sixty (160) acres.

The above property is situated 2½ miles from Hilliard, Alberta. 140 acres are under cultivation. There is a well and old log house and frame shingle roof barn and two-wire fencing.

The property will be offered for sale at an upset price of $7,000.00, the purchaser assuming all current taxes. Tenders must be enclosed in a sealed envelope marked "Tenders re Manufacturers Life Insurance Company vs. Lucyk, Number 36294," addressed to A. Simpson, Esq., K.C., Clerk of the Supreme Court, Court House, Edmonton, Alberta, and must be in the hands of the said A. Simpson not later than four o'clock in the afternoon on the 29th day of April, 1946.

TERMS OF SALE: Each tender shall be accompanied by a marked cheque or cash for 10% of the amount of the tender and the balance of the purchase price shall be paid (unless the time is otherwise extended) into Court within 60 days after acceptance of the tender, without interest.

The deposit of 10% shall be forfeited by the successful tenderer if he refuses to carry out the purchase after acceptance of his tender. Cheques of unsuccessful tenderers shall be returned to them immediately after rejection thereof.

The highest or any tender not necessarily accepted. In all other respects the terms and conditions of sale will be the standing conditions of sale of the Supreme Court of Alberta, so far as same are applicable.

For further particulars apply to Field, Hyndman & McLean, Barristers, 316 McLeod Building, Edmonton, Alberta.

DATED at Edmonton, this 26th day of March, 1946.

A. SIMPSON,
C.S.C.A.

Notice to Creditors and Claimants

IN THE MATTER OF THE ESTATE OF HAROLD (HARRY) ARTHUR PHILLIPS, late of the Town of Jasper, in the Province of Alberta, Outfitter and Guide, Deceased.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that all persons having claims upon the estate of the above named HAROLD (HARRY) ARTHUR PHILLIPS, who died at Jasper, in the Province of Alberta, on or about the 16th day of January, A.D. 1946, are required to file with Messrs. Duncan, Cross and Johnson, Barristers, Bank of Nova Scotia Building, Edmonton, Alberta, Solicitors for Ellen Wilkins, the Administratrix, by the 15th day of May, A.D. 1946, a full statement, duly verified, of their claims and any securities held by them, and that after that date the Administratrix will distribute the assets of the deceased among the parties entitled thereto, having regard only to the claims of which notice has been so filed or which have been brought to her knowledge.

DATED this 6th day of April, A.D. 1946.

DUNCAN, CROSS AND JOHNSON
Solicitors for the Administratrix.

Troopship Docks Without Tugs' Aid

SOUTHAMPTON, April 16 — (CP)—The 43,000-ton liner Ile De France docked here yesterday without aid of tugs after spending Sunday night anchored in Cowes Roads. The ship was prevented from docking Sunday night by a strike of 130 crew members of 14 tugboats. The men agreed last night to return to work during continued negotiation of their complaints against irregular Sunday hours.

Child Is Saved From River Death

FORT WILLIAM, April 16.—(CP)—Ten-year-old Arthur Miller of Fort William was rescued from the icy waters of the Neebing river Sunday by John Rogers, police chauffeur here for the last 20 years.

Hearing cries for help, Mr. Rogers ran to the river bank and saw a boy struggling in the water beside an upturned boat. He rescued the youth with the aid of a 14-foot plank.

Man Appeared In Female Role For Two Decades

LONG BEACH, Calif., April 16—(AP)—A male carnival performer masqueraded as a woman for approximately 20 years, it was disclosed yesterday at an autopsy on a self-styled "cobra woman," who died from the bite of a seven-foot diamond-back rattlesnake.

The victim, fanged on the hand Saturday night in a reptile show, had been billed as "Miss Elsie Marks, the Cobra Woman."

Detectives reported a shipyard worker, Alexander Marks, had said he lived as man and wife with the six-foot-three 296-pound "Cobra Woman" for more than 18 years. They were married in San Francisco, Nov. 29, 1927, Marks said and added the victim had had two previous "husbands."

U.S. Moves to End Coercion of Radio

WASHINGTON, April 16—(AP)—President Truman signed today legislation making it a federal offense to use coercion against radio broadcasters.

SPONSORS SAID the measure is designed to halt certain practices of the American Federation of Labor Musicians' union, headed by James C. Petrillo. It carries penalties of up to a year's imprisonment and $1,000 fine for compelling or attempting to compel broadcasters to:

1. Hire more employees than they want.

2. Pay money for services not performed.

3. Pay unions for the use of phonograph records.

4. Pay again for broadcasting a transcript of a previous program.

THE SAME penalties could be invoked against persons niterfering with broadcast of cultural or educational programs originating in foreign lands.

Co-Op. Officer Lays Propaganda Charge

HAMILTON, April 16.—(CP)—General Secretary A. MacDonald of Ottawa, general secretary of the Co-operative Union of Canada, charged yesterday in a press release of a speech that an organization known as the Income Taxpayers Association was issuing "false propaganda" against co-operatives in order to bring pressure on the federal government to tax these non-profit groups.

The speech was made before the opening session of the Dominion conference of the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway Employees and other transport workers.

ORGANIZED LABOR'S only way of making the pay envelope meet expenses of the home, he said, was through co-operative buying and selling of consumers goods on a non-profit basis. Co-operatives were the only answer to cartel control of the production and distribution of goods.

Almost 300 delegates from throughout Canada are in attendance at the convention, presided over by A. R. Mosher, president.

Palestine's Civil Servants Strike

JERUSALEM, April 16.—(BUP)—More than 2,500 civil service employees today joined a spreading strike that threatened to paralyze the entire economic life of Palestine. Higher wages was a basic demand in the civil and communications strikes. Two British colonial officials left the plane for London to urge concessions to the demands of the strikers.

Say Khaki Drill Bad For Uniforms

OTTAWA, April 16.—(CP)—An inter-service committee, studying new uniform designs as one means of attracting recruits, have decided to recommend to chiefs of staff the present rumpled and invariably untidy khaki drill be discarded in favor of smarter material, it was learned last night.

Farm Machinery Boost "Injurious"

REGINA, April 16—(CP)—The Saskatchewan wheat pool in a statement today said the recent 12½ per cent allowable increase in the price of farm machinery would have an "injurious effect" on Canada's all-out program of food production and urged a corresponding increase in farm prices to offset the higher cost of production.

Moose Cross Breeds With Eastern Cattle

OTTAWA, April 16.—(CP)—Dominion agriculture department experts are showing an interest in "Angus of Aylwin", latest in a line of animals resulting from the accidental cross-breeding of cattle and moose at Aylwin, Que.

WEE ANGUS WAS BORN eight days ago on the Aylwin property of Freeman Cross of Ottawa, who is sure the calf was sired by a bull moose.

He said he had placed the calf's mother, also believed to be part moose, near Lake Baskatong last summer.

"When we found she was going to have a calf, we knew it must have been sired by a bull moose, for the nearest farm . . . was seven miles away, across the lake.

"The original owner claimed the grandmother had been the result of cross-breeding between a cow and a bull moose and had had a calf under similar circumstances."

DR. A. DEAKIN of the animal husbandry division of the central Dominion experimental farm said he intends to investigate the Aylwin animals and would like to obtain one for experiments.

Another agriculture department official said partly successful experiments in cross-breeding the Yak and domestic Canadian cattle had been conducted and the department now was developing the "cattalo" by breeding the buffalo at Wainwright, Alta., with domestic cattle.

Urges Continuation West Indies Line

OTTAWA, April 16.—(CP)—Consideration is being given to future operations of the Canadian National (West Indies) Steamships Ltd., and the line should not be allowed to become a war casualty, R. C. Vaughan, president, said in his annual report made public today.

Mr. Vaughan's report, tabled in the commons by Transport Minister Chevrier, reviewed wartime operations of the line which lost three of her "Lady" ships by enemy action . Two others were converted to hospital and troopships.

TO PROVIDE for immediate requirements three Diesel-powered cargo ships were being purchased from War Assets Corp. Delivery was expected by late summer. A 4,700-ton ship had been bought from Park Steamships and four others would be chartered.

An operating profit for 1945 of $1,563,159 was down $411,173 from 1944. Freight revenue of $3,155,714 was a reduction of 23.5 per cent, while passenger revenue jumped from $8,231 in 1944 to $55,325 in 1945.

Veteran Charged In Cabby's Death

WINNIPEG, April 16—(CP)—Lawrence Deacon, 33-year-old war veteran, today was charged with murder in connection with the slaying of Johann Johnson, 48-year-old taxi driver, killed in suburban Tuxedo, March 31.

Deacon, along with Mrs. Helen E. Berard, 28-year-old mother, was arrested April 9 on a coroner's warran as material witness. Mrs. Berard is still in custody and will appear at the inquest, April 23.

POLICE CHIEF George Smith said Deacon will be arraigned in city police court tomorrow.

Johnson was beaten to death with an iron bar, his skull fractured by a series of blows. His body was found in a field, a short distance from his blood-spattered taxi.

Unlikely to Force Japs to Go Home

By VICTOR MACKIE
Edmonton Bulletin Ottawa Bureau

OTTAWA, April 16—It is not expected here now that any Japanese will be deported to their homeland unless they ask to be sent back or if they have been actively disloyal to Canada.

Members take it as significant that the Dominion government has made no effort to reply to demands by West Coast members, both Liberal and opposition, that it re-state its policy concerning the deportation of the Japanese.

IT IS NOW TAKEN for granted that Japanese will be allowed to live in Canada wherever they can make a living but the government is hoping they will have enough sense to realize that in many parts of British Columbia they are not welcome.

Saskatchewan's CCF government has indicated it is willing to allow Japanese to make their homes in that province and so has Manitoba. Japanese wishing to go to those provinces can travel there with government assistance and national selective service will undertake to help them find employment.

RMC to Continue Officer Training

CORNWALL, Ont., April 16. — (CP) — Defence Minister Abbott, discussing the future of the Royal Military College at Kingston, Ont., said last night it would continue to function as an officer training centre, hinted that its syllabus might be changed but gave no definite details.

HE BROUGHT UP the much-discussed future of the college in a speech to service clubs here. It was a bit too early to say that the development of the atomic bomb had dispensed with the necessity for large armed forces. ". . . almost invariably with each new development the number of men required has increased."

He also disclosed:

1. The navy, in order to keep within its complement of 10,000 men, one aircraft carrier and four destroyers will be held in reserve.

2. Canada may have to assume certain military obligations in the United Nations organization and these will have a bearing on the extent to which she must retain readily available armed forces.

3. Reserve forces will have adequate equipment of the latest type available on a generous scale to ensure the part-time training courses will be both realistic and interesting.

4. The reserve air force will be organized to provide a fully-manned and equipped unit which, should the necessity arise, can be mobilized as a tactical air force for operations in conjunction with the army.

NOT ONLY DID his speech forecast some integration of services but he mentioned that the navy would be trained to fight with either the British or U.S. fleets and that the RCAF staff college at Toronto would work in co-operation with other services and with RAF and the United States Army Air Force.

Red Navy Officer in Court Next Week

SEATTLE, April 16. — (AP) — Nicolai G. Redin, Russian naval lieutenant, will be notified to appear next Monday in Federal court to be arraigned on a charge of espionage, Allan Pomeroy, chief assistant United States attorney, said yesterday. His arraignment on a federal grand jury indictment, originally scheduled for yesterday, was postponed because necessary papers did not arrive in time from Portland, Ore., where he was arrested and later released on $10,000 bond.

Uruguay Seeking Big Wheat Supply

WASHINGTON, April 16.—(AP)—Uruguay has asked the combined food board for 100,000 tons of wheat to make up for Argentina's recent refusal to grant a request for a shipment of the scarce cereal, it was revealed yesterday.

Uruguayan officials estimated that after June the tiny republic would be completely out of cereals.

Bathing Suit Modesty Problem Yet Unsettled

By DOUGLAS AMARON

MONTREAL, April 16.—(CP)—The provocative question of when does a bathing suit cease to be modest remained unanswered Monday when Msgr. J. A. Valois, directing a Montreal Roman Catholic diocesan campaign against immorality, disclosed that approved designs are not yet ready for public display.

A HALF DOZEN REPORTERS, two cameramen and a designer of catchy swim suits were present yesterday for what they expected to be a preview of swim suits a women's committee of the diocese has approved, but the meeting with the congenial monsignor was for press conference purposes only. One of the photographers left and the lady designer was advised that members of the committee would confer with her later.

The monsignor explained the war against immorality was being waged not only from a religious point of view, but because "the better our youth are today, the better our nation will be tomorrow."

A statement issued at the brief conference said that with the approach of summer, the diocesan committee of Catholic action "wants to raise a cry of alarm against the immorality of certain summer costumes, particularly bathing suits, sun suits, shorts and young girls' dresses."

IMMORAL PRINTED MATTER aroused sensuality and was provocative, but it was not as pernicious "as style creations which lead to a condition of undress more and more audacious among women, young girls, and even men."

Cavendish Choir Wins Triumph In Its Second Annual Concert

The Cavendish choir on Monday night appeared in its second annual concert at the Masonic Temple. The audience was large, almost filling the hall, and was generous in the volume of applause bestowed on the choir and assisting artists.

LEONARD BETTS conducted Irene Lindskoog was at the piano and Cathryn Zender, soprano, and William Smith, tenor, were the assisting artists.

This year's annual concert was on a higher and more difficult level than its predecessor. For his major work Mr. Betts selected Henry Hadley's cantata, "A Legend of Granada," which occupied about half an hour.

TO THIS WRITER the performance of the Hadley work was disappointing, in that the opportunities for tonal and dramatic effects were not seized and developed to a greater extent. One felt how much better it might and could have been. There was much excellent work accomplished, but it was mostly in regard to the mastery of the notes. Greater diversity of tone color, and employment of more rubato and variety of nuance were required.

THE CONCERT OPENED with Coleridge-Taylor's From the Green Heart of the Waters and Vaughan Williams' Sound Sleep. In these two numbers the choir hardly seemed to have found itself. There was a tendency toward raggedness and questionable intonation.

After the intermission there was a different story to tell. The choir came into its own with a group comprising Schubert's The Lord is My Shepherd, Ippolitov-Ivanov's Bless the Lord, O My Soul; Bach's O Jesu Sweet, O Jesu Mild, and Diack's All in the April Evening. Here was singing beautiful in quality, balance, precision and replete with color. It is a long time since one has heard singing to equal this group.

THIS STANDARD was continued in the final group all arranged by that estimable musician Percy Fletcher, The Staines Morris, Robin Adair and Follow Me Down to Carlow. Here was singing of a high order splendid in every way.

Mr. Betts conducted in highly commendable fashion. He worked unremittingly throughout and was always striving for higher standards. He had the chorus trained to a high peak of efficiency so far as familiarity with the notes was concerned and the singers strove valiantly to meet his wishes in interpretation. He proved himself an excellent leader and it is hoped he and the choir will continue along the same artistic lines followed since organization two years ago.

MISS ZENDER, in addition to being soloist in the cantata, sang Mozart's Alleluja and Hagman's Do Not Go My Love. While she has been heard to better advantage her singing, nevertheless, was on a high plane and was greatly appreciated. Mr. Smith, over and above his contribution in the cantata, sang Campbell-Tipton's The Spirit Flower and Bohm's Calm as the Night. He too was in good voice and gave a performance of a high order.

Irene Lindskoog at the piano covered herself with glory. Not only did she accompany the chorus, but she did likewise for both soloists and played two solos herself, Chopin's Valse in E Minor and Cyril Scott's Lotus Land. Miss Lindskoog is a pianist and accompanist of unusual ability, combining a consummate, fluent and scintillating technique with sound musicianship. Seldom has there been finer work of its kind exhibited here.

Those taking part were:

First sopranos — Beth Baker, Peggy Berry, Betty Clement, Vaurie Cox, Peggy Craven, Margaret Doty, Lottie Driscoll, Arlene Fleming, Marge Hammett, Claire Hollingworth, Hilda Middleton, Dorothy McLelland, Naomi Skinner, Mary Smith Jean Toombs, Muriel Yates.

Second sopranos—Derina Atkinson, Mabel Betts, Marjorie Brown, Doris Bull, Ivy Carter, Muriel Dyer, Gladys McBride, Martha Shore, Mary Willetts.

Home and School Co-Operation Held Essential For Children

The biggest firm in the world is the Home, School and Company, and the co-operation of both the teachers and school teachers must be enlisted for proper development and education of Canada's children, declared Dr. S. R. Laycock, national president, Canadian Federation of Home and School, when speaking to approximately 250 persons who attended a public meeting in Garneau school auditorium Monday night.

DR. LAYCOCK BUILT his talk around the fact that in a child's life he has four teachers, home teachers, playmate teachers, community teachers such as churches, other organizations and clubs, and school teachers.

Dr. Laycock stated: "Through his home teachers every child learns good, bad, or indifferent ways of getting along with others. First of all the youngster learns the tools of human living as a result of the way his parents handle him. If he finds that temper tantrums or pouting or sulking or touchiness or tears or self-pity work best in getting other people to do what he wants he'll use these tools in getting along with others. He'd be a fool if he didn't.

"It's only stupid and neurotic people who don't learn from experience. On the other hand, if a child is fortunate in his choice of parents he may learn good tools to use in human living—tools of kindness, co-operativeness, unselfishness and friendliness.

"In addition to learning how to act towards other people from the way his parents manage him, the child also learns from the way they themselves act towards others. If they have prejudices against those of other religions or other races he is likely to have them too. If they are insincere and dishonest in their dealings with others he is likely to be so too. If, on the other hand, they are fair-minded, honest and decent, he is likely to be so too," the speaker continued.

"ONE OF THE MOST interesting effects of a child's home teachers is the attitudes he learns towards family life—attitudes which will persist when he establishes a home of his own. If his mother is a dominant, bossy type who regards her husband as merely an animated pay envelope or if his father is the lord and master and the mother little more than a household drudge, these are the patterns of the husband-wife relationship which he first learns," declared Dr. Laycock.

With regard to playmates the doctor commented, "A child's playmate teachers take quite a hand in his education. They may teach him unwholesome sex attitudes or to lie or to steal or to fight or to bully others. On the other hand, they may teach him that he can't have his own way all the time, that he must let others have their turn, that he must respect the property of other children, and that he must play fair.

School teachers were the next group of teachers dealt with by Dr. Laycock. He stressed the fact that it was their duty to teach a child much more than just reading, writing and arithmetic. He also pointed out that teachers must size their pupils in order for the pupils to like them, and that what the child learns from the school teacher is carried back into the home.

"THEREFORE", stated the speaker, "parents and teachers are partners in the development of children and youth. There are teachers who refuse to recognize or who resent this partnership. They state most emphatically that they want to have as little to do with parents as possible. They regard parents as a nuisance—a sort of necessary evil. Such teachers fail to recognize that the whole child comes to school and not just his brain—that he brings his body, his emotions and his social attitudes along, and, therefore, brings the influences of his home teachers with him.

"They fail to recognize, too, that their own job is something more than helping a child to develop some elementary skills and to amass facts—that rather their job is to help a child towards the fourfold objective of self-realization, happy human relationships, economic efficiency and civic responsibility, and that in helping a child towards this objective the parents always have a real share".

Dr. Laycock concluded his address by pointing out the aims and objects of home and school associations and the work that can be done by individual groups. Following this a brief discussion period was held.

The doctor was introduced by R. S. Sheppard, superintendent of city schools. Appreciation of his address was extended on behalf of those present by Mrs. F. C. Butterworth. Chairman of the meeting was Dr. A. G. McCalla, president of the Edmonton Home and School Council.

Musical entertainment was supplied by a group of students from Garneau school, led by E. W. Bishop.

Road Ahead

bothering them asking them to do something about the situation.

Up to the present the men in the government whose business it is to worry about building houses listen to the arguments put up by all these interested parties and try to please them all. Yet anybody knows that a person who tries to please everybody ends up by pleasing nobody. Therefore until the government officials decide why they want to build houses—for shelter, for jobs, for investments, or as a source of taxation, or to stop complaints—they aren't going to be able to please anybody.

AS A SECOND example, let's ask ourselves: "Why do we want business and industry to expand?" Is it to increase the number of goods we produce, is it to provide jobs, is it to provide investment opportunities, is it to increase profits, or is it for some other reason? All of these are reasons why business should be expanded. Yet until we decide which of these reasons is the most important it is going to be difficult for us to decide how to expand business, and what businesses to expand, and where to locate them.

If the government stayed out of the picture then the answers to these questions would all be clear cut. Investors and real estate firms would hire contractors to build homes so that they could rent them at a profit. Investors and entrepreneurs would establish businesses so that they could make a profit by selling their products.

BUT THE GOVERNMENT has butted its nose into everybody's business today. Which, in many ways is a good thing. But if the government is going to butt its nose into things, then the government has got a duty to know why it is butting its nose into other peoples' business. And until the government makes up its mind, then instead of helping it is only going to hamper everything.

It seems to me today that we have arrived at a point where it is fair to say that either we have too much government interference or not enough. Either the government has got to back up and pull its nose out of a lot of places, or it has got to let people know what it has in mind, and then climb right in and see that things are done so that the results which are desired are obtained.

AT THE PRESENT time there are shortages of everything, except red-tape and government inspectors. Businessmen are afraid to expand because they don't know what regulations they are going to run into next, how much the government will let them do, how far they'll let them go, or how much profit they will let them make. It is high time that somebody in authority sat down for a moment and did a little serious thinking before any more regulations are put into effect.

A special message to INCOME TAX PAYERS EARNING $1800 OR LESS

Professor J. L. McDougall of Queen's University has informed a special committee of the Senate, that if co-operatives, crown companies, government and municipally owned corporations were taxed on the same basis as other businesses, they would pay up to 125 millions of dollars in Income and Excess Profits Taxes annually.

This means that 125 millions of potential taxes are not being collected. This additional burden is thrown on other businesses, big and small, and on individual income tax payers. It is the equivalent of $50.00 for every individual income tax payer in Canada.

If this 125 millions of dollars of revenue were collected, the Department of National Revenue could, without reducing its revenue, wipe out the personal income tax on 1,423,000 tax payers with incomes below $1800.

A New Danger Has Arisen

This situation is in danger of becoming worse instead of better. A Royal Commission has recommended that profits, if paid out as patronage dividends to customers, should be treated as an expense in computing taxable income. If this recommendation becomes law, any business could then pay out all, or practically all, of its profits as patronage dividends, leaving nothing to tax.

There can be no objection to the payment of patronage dividends. That should be the right of any business. But as long as there is a tax on income or profits, all profits must be subject to income tax. Patronage dividends should be paid only from taxed profits. To deduct patronage dividends before computing taxable income would undermine the whole income tax structure. The result would be an increased burden of income taxes for individuals.

Unloading the Tax Burden on You

The rapid expansion of co-operatives during recent years of high taxation has been due to the fact that they have been able to escape paying income tax. Should this tax inequality be allowed to continue?

If so, this country will witness the expansion of great tax-free co-operatives and the gradual elimination of tax-paying privately-owned business. That will mean millions more in income tax revenue lost to the government. Can individuals be expected to shoulder this extra burden of taxation?

Revision of The Income War Tax Act, insofar as it concerns Co-operatives, will come before the current Session of Parliament. It is of utmost importance that such revisions shall bring tax equality to all groups. We urge that the income tax payers of Canada insist that their elected representatives in the House of Commons see that the heavy burden of income tax is shared fairly by all.

The Income Tax Payers Association has no objection to the principles of co-operative trading. It should be the right of every Canadian to trade as he desires. Our objection is to ensure that no section of business unloads its share of income taxation and cost of the war on other business or on individual income tax payers.
